Friday January 10 Early Evangelist Dies San Antonio

Rev. Sid Williams, Baptist evangelist was buried in San Antonio Sunday; he was 72 years of age. Rev. Williams was well known in Arlington and Tarrant County. Long before the country heard of Billy Sunday and other now famous evangelists he was going over the country with his message, preached in the same manner.

He always drew a crowd and kept them entertained every moment they were in his presence. All the old timers of the county remember him, many times he has spent weeks with them, a valued friend whose going left a blank around the family fireside. Sid Williams was witty, he was happy and he was sincere, truly a great man and his passing will be mourned by thousands.

Friday January 10 DEATH CLAIMS INFANT OF MR. AND MRS. LEON BOOKER

Friday January 24 Last Rites For Grandma Kimble

Grandma Kimble, 86, a resident of Arlington for 35 years died in a Dallas hospital, Jan. 17. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. T. Upchurch at Duncanville the 18th at two thirty. Burial was in the Treacie's Cemetery

Mrs. Kimble was born at Graford, Ill., January 23, 1850. She made her home with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Perrett. She was a loveable character, patient, long suffering and happy in her faith and religion.

The neighbors and friends who knew her well feel they have lost a friend and guide, one who was always eager to point the way to better things and a "home not prepared by hands." She will be missed but her influence will remain with those who knew her best.

Friday January 24 GRACE CHAPEL By Miss Addie Brewton

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Roseborough who passed to her home on Sunday January 19.

She was making her home with her son, Mr. Will Leatherman of Arlington. We express our sympathy to the family in their loss.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Friday January 24

Mrs. T. Roseborough Passed Away Sun.

On Sunday January 19, Mrs. T. A. Roseborough passed away, at the home of her son, W. A. Leatherman, after an illness of several months.

The funeral service was held in the home with Bro. Shearer and Bro. Patterson officiating.

Survivors besides her son are three brothers. R. C. Bridges, Dalhart; J. N. Bridges, Cleburne; and J. R. Bridges, Princeton, Alabama. Two sisters, Mrs. H. L. Overall, Wartrace, Tenn., and Mrs. T. L. Bostic, La Rue, Texas.

Quite a large number of out-of-town relatives attended the funeral.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to those who are left and with the poet we would say:
"You cannot say, you must not say
That she is dead. She is just away.
She has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming, how very fair
It needs must be since she lingers there,
So think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of her still as the same and say,
She is not dead—she is just away."

Friday January 24

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our mother, Mrs. T. A. Roseborough.
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leatherman.

George R. Maynard Buried Monday

George R. Maynard, aged 68 years, seven months and eight days, died at his home on Border Street, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 1. His death was very sudden and a terrible shock to his family and friends. Mrs. Maynard had gone to town and was away from home only a short time and upon her return she found her husband had died during her absence.

He had been ill for about three years, but at the time of his death was thought to be in his usual state of health. Since his death neighbors have told his grief stricken wife, that Mr. Maynard had told them he had been feeling much worse for the past few weeks. He suffered a slight stroke of paralysis at the beginning of his illness and since that time has been under constant medical treatment.

Mr. Maynard was born at Port Elizabeth, South Africa, where his father was a trader. He was reared near Corsicana and moved to Arlington from Dallas about 10 years ago.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at ten o'clock, from the Moore Funeral Home, with Rev. S. M. Bennett officiating. Services were conducted at the grave by the Masons. Pall bearers were members of the lodge. Burial was in Parkdale Cemetery. Mr. Maynard is survived by his wife, one son, Harry Maynard, Fort Worth, two grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. George Burnett of Ronoake, Virginia.

Friday February 7

Mrs. Jim Wright's Mother Dies Sun.

Mrs. Smith, mother of Mrs. Jim Wright, died in St. Joseph's hospital in Ft. Worth, Sunday night and was buried Monday. She had been in ill health for some time.

Mrs. Wright's friends in Arlington will be grieved to hear of her loss and extend deepest sympathy to her and the rest of the family.

Friday February 7

EULESS NEWS

Mrs. Oliver Arnett

Little Freda Ann Meadows, two weeks old, whose mother passed away Monday, January 27, is being cared for by her grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Annie Meadows and Mrs. Rubie Mayes. She had been in the hospital from the time of her birth until last Sunday when she was brought home. She is doing fine at present and we hope she continues to do so.

Friday February 14

Funeral Services For Mrs. Roberts

Mrs. T. D. Roberts died at her home in Arlington Tuesday after a short illness. Funeral services were conducted in Dallas Monday (?). Mrs. Roberts moved to Dallas some time ago to be near her children, but was never satisfied away from her home in Arlington and about two weeks ago moved back.

Her daughter, Mrs. Armo Payne of Dallas moved here with her parents, and they had been here only about a week when Mrs. Roberts became ill.

Friday February 7 CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy, and also the beautiful floral offering at the time of the sudden death of our husband, father, son and brother, John W. Degenhart. We pray that God will take care and bless each of you.

Mrs. John Degenhart and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. George Degenhart, Giles Degenhart, Verona Cannon.

Friday February 14 J. W. Degenhart Buried Saturday

Funeral services for J. W. Degenhart were conducted Friday at two o'clock at the Euleless Methodist Church. Rev. Paxton Smith officiated. Burial was in the Calloway Cemetery. Pall bearers were Aubury Fuller, Bob Curry, Bud and Roxie Ferris, Carl Horton and Andy Morelock.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Degenhart, one daughter, Jane, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Degenhart, all of whom live near Euleless; a brother Giles Degenhart, Dallas and a sister, Mrs. Verona Cannon also of Dallas.

Mr. Degenhart was crushed to death in Dallas, Thursday, when a bus ran over him as he worked at the Bowen Motor Coach garage. He formerly lived between Arlington and Euleless, and was well known in both places.

Friday February 14 EULESS Mrs. Oliver Arnett

This community was stricken with grief on Thursday morning of last week when news came of the sudden death of John Degenhart, 28, of Dallas, formerly of Euleless. John, who was employed at the Bowen Motor Coach Shop in Dallas was making a repair on the brakes of a bus, when the driver not knowing that John was under the bus pulled out for Houston. The back wheel ran over him, killing him instantly.

John was born in Dallas and moved to this community at the age of 5. He was married to Miss Ruth Ferris Jan. 22nd 1927. To this happy union was born one child Patsy Jane, who is 3 years old.

Everyone who knew John was his friend and loved to be in his presence. He tried to treat everyone alike and be kind to everyone. He always wore a smile and had a kind word for each person he met.

This family lived in this community until 6 months ago when he found the work he loved so well at the Bowen Shop in Dallas. He was a first class mechanic and put his whole life into the work as it was his favorite kind.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to this bereaved family in their time of sorrow.

John professed religion several years ago and was of Methodist faith while he had never joined the church. He was waiting to join with his daughter when she was old enough.

The 57 sprays of beautiful flowers and the large church overflowing with friends and relatives was proof enough that John lived a straight life and had many, many friends.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth Degenhart, one daughter, Patsy Jane, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Degenhart, one brother Giles of Dallas and one sister Verona, of Dallas.

Funeral services were conducted Friday February 7th 1936 at 12 o'clock at the Euleless Methodist Church with Rev. Paxton Smith of Tolar, former pastor at Euleless in charge. His body was laid to rest in the Calloway cemetery.

Friday February 14 FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MR. MELTON AND MR. HOGUE

were conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Ft. Worth. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery. Revs. Ramsey Pollard, Albert Venting and A. S. Gafford officiated.

Pall Bearers for Mr. Melton were C. A. Longhurt, R. H. Gunn, J. J. Coleman, A. G. Hansen, Ed L. Sorrels and J. J. Melear. Pallbearers for Mr. Hogue were F. L. Covert, R. L. LeGate, L. I. Brown, L. M. Spears, A. H. Thomas and D. C. Melear.

Mr. Melton is survived by one son, William S. Melton; two daughters, Mrs. Hogue and Miss Mable Melton and three grandchildren of Ft. Worth. Mr. Hogue's survivors are his wife, one daughter, Polly Marie, Ft. Worth: and three brothers, Perry Hogue of Grapevine and W. P. and Jerry Hogue of Keller.

Mr. Hogue, an employee of the Traction Co., for 25 years died from an attack of acute indigestion at 4:30 Saturday morning and Mr. Melton, his father-in-law had been suffering from a heart ailment several days. He died in an adjoining room at 6 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Melton suffered a paralytic stroke several days ago and had been unconscious for three days. Mr. Melton was a pioneer citizen of Arlington and community. He reared his family south of town and was respected and loved by all who knew him. The many friends of Mrs. Hogue and Miss Mable Melton extend deepest sympathy to them in their loss.

Friday February 14

JOHNSON STATION

Mrs. J. T. Short

Old friends of Miss Mabel Melton and Mrs. Mary Hogue extend tenderest sympathy to them in their sad hours of grief in the loss of their father, Mr. W. T. Melton and Mrs. Hogue's husband, both of whom passed away at their home in Fort Worth Saturday morning just one hour apart. These good people were long time residents of Johnson Station and were loved by their many friends here.

Quite a number from here attended the funeral at Tabernacle Baptist Church, Fort Worth, Monday.

Friday February 14

Funeral Services For Jack Sewell This Afternoon

Little Jack Sewell, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sewell, died in a Fort Worth Hospital Thursday morning at 9:30. Jack had been ill about two weeks suffering with double pneumonia.

Word was received in Arlington Wednesday that he was much better, and when the news of his death came it was a shock to every one.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home this afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. George W. Shearer and Rev. S. M. Bennett will officiate. Burial will be in the Arlington cemetery.

FREESTONE COUNTY PIONEER DIES

James M. Weaver, 87, born in Georgia and a pioneer of Wortham Freestone County died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mollie Melton in Mexia.

He was a wealthy land owner and civic leader.

Surviving him are his wife, five sons, W. B. Gussie, J. C. and Archie Weaver of Wortham, Geo. T. Weaver, Dawson and one daughter, Mrs. Mollie Melton, Mexia.

Funeral services were held Friday at Central Presbyterian Church of Wortham.

Mr. Weaver and his wife on Jan. 7th celebrated their sixty-second wedding anniversary.

The above appeared in the Dallas News Feb. 6th. Mr. Weaver was a brother of A. N. Weaver at this city. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver attended the funeral at Wortham Friday.

Friday February 14

Rex Is Dead

Rex was just a dog—but his intelligence, his quiet and perfect manners made him seem more human than canine. He was owned by Doyle Dunning but belonged to all the children of the neighborhood who would often stop on their way to and from school to pat his head, coax him to sit up, shake hands and grin—all of which Rex seemed to enjoy. Of Russian Spitz breed, Rex was an unusually smart dog and was liked by grownups as well as children, and was well known in his neighborhood. But Rex is gone—victim of an automobile accident on the Highway Sunday afternoon. His master was visiting in Dallas, but the kind hands of a friend and neighbor picked up the broken body and carried it home.

Rex was not just another dog—he was—well!—he was REX.

Friday February 14 Gustave Santerre, Life-Long Resident Of One Home, Dies

Gustave Santerre, pioneer of Dallas who lived all the seventy-eight years of his life in one house, died Sunday night at the home he knew for so long, 1422 North Westmoreland, Oak Cliff. Death was caused by pneumonia and heart failure and followed an illness of four days.

Mr. Santerre was a native of Dallas County. He was born at La Reunion, the old French colony which still goes by that name, in West Oak Cliff. His parents came from France to locate in the colony. Two months after he was born the parents moved a mile to another house in the colony.

The death of Mr. Santerre leaves only two known surviving residents of La Reunion. They are his brother, Emanuel Santerre, 86, who lives on Eagle Ford, road, and George Cretien, 647 North Tyler.

La Reunion, which was aimed to be a French utopia, was apart from Dallas when Mr. Santerre was born. It was about the same size as Dallas, and Mr. Santerre was 8 before he visited the thriving county seat.

Mr. Santerre's wife was Miss Rosa Loupot, also from an old French family but who lived in Dallas. It is believed by members of Mr. Santerre's family that there are more than 200 relatives of the family, on both sides in Dallas County.

Mr. Santerre was educated by his sisters and was considered a well read man in his later years of life. Some time ago he presented the Dallas Historical Association with a collection of books owned by his father, Francois Santerre. The books, all in French, had been carried across the ocean thirteen times by Mr. Santerre's father.

Farming and fruit growing was Mr. Santerre's life work and at the time of his death he was with his two sons operating one of the largest fruit farms in North Texas. He was not active in the business, however, having retired a few years ago.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, John Santerre, Arlington, and Leo Santerre, Dallas; one daughter, Mrs. Marie O'Brien, Dallas; his brother, Emanuel Santerre, Dallas, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday at 3 p.m. at the Lamar & Smith Chapel with burial in Restland Cemetery.

Friday February 21 Funeral Services For Jack Sewell

Funeral services for Jack Sewell, eight-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Sewell, were held Friday afternoon, February 14, at 2 o'clock, at the home of his parents. Burial was in Arlington cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. S. M. Bennett, assisted by Rev. George W. Shearer.

A group of songs that Jack sang in his Sunday School work were sung by those who had worked with him in Sunday School and public school. Miss Bess Norwood led the singing of:

"Jesus Loves Me So."

"Father We Thank Thee For The Night."

"So Strong And Kind My Father Is."

"God Is So Near."

Jack is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed T. Sewell, his grandmother, Mrs. B. A. Barnes, his grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sewell of Odessa.

Jack contracted pneumonia on Friday, Jan. 31, and was removed to a Ft. Worth Hospital on Sunday and placed under an oxygen tent. His condition became very grave but he rallied on the ninth day and seemed much better for several days. On Wednesday night pneumonia set up in the other lung and his heart, already weakened by his illness, could not stand the strain. The end came at 9:30 on Thursday morning, February 13.

Friday February 21 ATTEND FUNERAL OF GRANDSON AND NEPHEW

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Sewell and Carl Sewell and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sewell of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stell of Texon attended the funeral of their grandson and nephew on Friday. They returned to their respective homes on Monday.

Friday February 21 CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy, and also the beautiful floral offerings at the time of the death of our son, Jack Sewell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Sewell.

Friday February 21 J. H. SPRADLIN DIES SATURDAY

Funeral services for J. H. Spradlin, 77, who died Saturday morning at eleven forty, were conducted Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Moore Funeral Chapel. Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the Methodist Church assisted by a Baptist Minister and Rev. J. T. Jones, a nephew of the deceased from Walters, Okla., officiated.

Burial was in Parkdale Cemetery. Mr. Spradlin is survived by his wife and seven children by his first wife. The children are S. R. Spradlin, Clarendon; Sallie Spradlin, Electra; R. L. Spradlin, Paris, Ark.; Mrs. C. C. McCracken, Electra; (remainder missing).

Friday February 21 CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking all our friends, who have helped us in the sickness and last illness of our husband and father, by their kindnesses, courtesies and floral offerings.

Mrs. J. H. Spradlin and children.

Friday February 21 Mrs. Wm. Ferguson Dies Friday, Feb. 14

Mrs. Mai Ferguson, 62, died at her home Friday, Feb. 14 after a lingering illness of several months. Funeral services were conducted at the Arlington Baptist Church Friday afternoon at four o'clock, Rev. W. T. Rouse of Denton, former pastor of the church officiated. Pall bearers were members of the board of deacons. The body was carried overland Sunday to Georgetown where a short service was held in the First Baptist Church at three o'clock. Burial was in the Odd Fellow Cemetery at Georgetown.

Mrs. Ferguson is survived by her husband, William Ferguson, three sons, James L. Bramblett, Mederland, Texas; P. L. Bramblett, Los Angeles, Calif.; and M. M. Ferguson, Dallas.

She had lived in Arlington for the past eight years and was an active member of the Arlington Baptist church. Mrs. Ferguson was quiet and retiring, lovable and loyal. She was never heard to say an unkind thing about any one. She counted every one her friend and was always ready to do an act of kindness for any one who needed help.

Until the time of her illness she was always in her place at the church services and her kindly smile and friendly handclasp will be missed by the membership. She was a true Christian and lived her religion every day of her life. True sympathy of all her friends goes out to her husband and children in their loss.

Mr. Poteet is survived by his wife, two sons, C. V. Poteet, Hinton, Okla.; J. Q. Poteet, Abilene; one daughter, Mrs. P. D. Roper, Handley, and one brother, Dock Poteet, Handley.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

The deceased had been a resident of Texas for the past 51 years and had resided in Handley for 16 years.

Friday February 21 February 22 Recalls Incident Showing Generous Character Of First President of Nation

February 23 carries us back to an episode recorded in history.

Many years ago, some soldiers were engaged in the repair of some fortifications. A pompous little officer gave his commands in a very loud voice.

The men were trying to get a timber beam to the top of a mound, but they needed the help of one more pair of arms to put it there.

The officer simply stood and shouted his commands, mixing them with abuse of the soldiers for their failure in their task.

“Now, you fellows, put your backs into it. Don’t stand looking at it—move it!”

A man in civilian clothes, who happened to be walking by, stopped and watched the proceedings, and then asked the officer why he did not help.

“Are you aware who I am sir?” asked the non-commissioned officer indignantly, “I am a corporal.”

“Are you?” asked the other. “I was not aware of that and I am sure I beg your pardon.”

Then the newcomer threw off his coat and lent a hand to the little group of perspiring men. The timber was soon in position. The officer did not thank the gentleman for his help. As the civilian put on his coat he said quietly:

“The next time you have a task of this kind in hand, sir, and have not enough men, just send to me, I will come and help.”

“May I ask who your are?” inquired the corporal haughtily.

“Yes, sir,” replied the gentleman, “You will always find me by addressing a letter or sending a messenger to the headquarters tent. My name is George Washington, and I am commander-in-chief of the army. Good day, sir!”

Friday February 21 Funeral Services For R. W. Stewart

Funeral services for Ralph W. Stewart, who died at his home Saturday were conducted from the Moore Funeral Home Sunday afternoon at four o’clock. Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the Methodist Church officiated. Burial was in the Arlington Cemetery.

Friday February 21 J. M. Moore Is Buried Sunday

Rev. R. A. Walker conducted the funeral services for Mr. J. M. Moore, at the chapel of the Masonic Home, Sunday morning at ten o’clock. Burial was in Red Oak Cemetery. He died Saturday morning at the Masonic Home.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Pardue and Miss Ruth Moore, both of Dallas. Mr. Moore had been a mason for 43 years and was a member of Dallas Lodge No. 760. He had been a member of the Methodist Church since early manhood. He was an uncle of Mr. Flynt of Arlington.

Friday February 21 L. R. Carlisle’s Sister Dies

Funeral services were conducted in Denton Sunday for Virgil Solomon, 44, who died of a heart attack at his home in Caddo, Friday night.

Mr. Solomon was the nephew of L. R. Carlisle of Arlington. Those attending the funeral from Arlington were Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle and daughter, Opal, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Benton and Jack Douglas who attends N.T.A.C.

Mr. Carlisle, upon his return from Denton, found a message from Amarillo saying his sister, Mrs. J. R. Martin had died early in the morning. Mr. Carlisle left at once to attend the funeral which was held in Clarendon, Texas.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Mrs. Martin had been ill for some time and Mr. Carlisle had visited her a number of times.

Friday February 21 Jess T. Sawyer Is Buried In Arlington Tues.

Some time during the night of February 16th, the death angel came into the home of Jess T. Sawyer and quietly carried his spirit away to the one who gave it—thus ending the life in a manner in which it had been lived—quietly and peacefully.

Mr. Sawyer was born in Arlington in the year 1881—the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Sawyer. He was a bookkeeper for his father who was engaged in the cotton business and was associated with the Citizens National Bank as bookkeeper.

When his parents moved away to Walters, Okla., some twenty-five or thirty years ago, Mr. Sawyer also went and cast his lot with them, and remained there until his death. There, also, he was associated in the Banking business as bookkeeper, vice-president and president and he, with his father, owned and operated a chain of cotton gins.

Mr. Sawyer was a man of few words and one whom all loved and trusted—his word was his bond. His quiet manner and gentle, kindly, sympathetic, and helpful disposition won for him many binding and lasting friendships such as few men are privileged to enjoy.

It could truly be said of him that “None knew him but to love him—none mentioned but to praise.”

Funeral services were held in the Baptist Church at Walters, Okla., at ten o'clock Tuesday morning with Rev. Jones, pastor, officiating. The body was then brought to the Luttrell – Owen Funeral Home where a brief service was conducted by Rev. Jones, assisted by Rev. S. M. Bennett and interment was in Arlington cemetery.

Mr. Sawyer is survived by his father B. F. Sawyer, Walters, Okla., and four brothers: Dick and Lon Sawyer, Walters, Okla.; Witt Sawyer, Chickasha, Okla., and Ben F. Sawyer Jr. Arkansas.

Arlington relatives of the deceased are, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKinley, Mrs. Will Pulley, Miss Lillie McNatt, Mrs. Tom Cravens and Mrs. Valin Woodward.

Friday February 21 WATSON NEWS Mrs. W. E. Adams

Mrs. Girard who has been very ill with pneumonia for sometime, died Monday evening. She was buried Tuesday afternoon in the Watson cemetery. Mr. Girard has also been ill with pneumonia. It is reported that he is improving.

Friday February 21 Mrs. Mary E. Girard Dies Monday Eve.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Girard, 57, were held at the Dalworth Catholic Church Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. Father Zachary of Dallas officiating. Burial was in the Watson Cemetery.

Mrs. Girard died at her home four and one half miles east of Arlington, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, after a week's illness.

The deceased is survived by her husband Ollie Girard, two brothers, Frank Stephens, San Antonio; Charley Stephens, Miami, Florida; one sister, Mrs. Willie Thomas also of Miami.

Friday February 21 PANTEGO NEWS Mrs. J. H. Bryant

Condolence is offered, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jones on the death of Mr. Jones' father, Geo. W. Jones of Windfall, Ind., on last Monday, February 10. Word of his death was delayed due to heavy snow storms and it was impossible for Mr. and Mrs. Jones to attend his funeral.

Friday February 21 WORD OF THANKS

In the recent hour of distress and sadness of our home, we wish to express our heart thankfulness to our many friends and neighbors, who have been so kind and thoughtful of us. Mr. L. D. Roberts and family.

STROLLING DOWNTOWN

By Jack Maxwell

According to reports, since the City Dads began hanging a stiff fine, or ELSE, on the booze fighters of the village, the number of drunks on the streets has fizzled out, quite a bit. Nothing like a jail sentence to make a fellow REMEMBER.

Friday February 21 TEXAS IN BLENDED FACT AND FANCY By J. H. Kooken

A year or so ago I cut out of a newspaper a speech made by a Texas woman, says Mark Sullivan, in the Worlds Work. I have kept it ever since for the purely personal purpose of reading it occasionally in order to get a laugh and a life of the spirits.

The occasion was the annual convention of the Methodist Women's Missionary Council of America. The meeting was held in Richmond, Virginia and the question was up of where the next annual meeting should be held.

Four cities were contending—San Francisco; Mobile, Alabama; Macon, Georgia; and San Antonio, Texas. Everybody though that the first three cities named were in the lead, and it looked as if the result was going to be a tie. It was then that Mrs. Rollins rose to present the claims and attractions of the Queen of the Prairie, as San Antonio is affectionately known in the Lone Star State.

I hope that other folks will find as much of the quantity and kind of interest in Mrs. Rollin's speech as will justify reproducing it here.

She said:

"Texas occupies all the Continent of North America except the small part set aside for the United States and Canada. Texas owns all North of the Rio Grande, the only dusty river in the world; also the only one, with the possible exception of the Trinity, which is navigable for mudcats and pedestrians.

"Texas is bounded on the north by twenty-five or thirty states, on the east by all of the oceans in the world except the Pacific and on the South by the Gulf of Mexico and South America, and on the west by the Atlantic Ocean, and the Milky Way and Sideal universe.

"If Texas were chopped off loose from the rest of the United States and the Panhandle, it would float out into the ocean, as it rests on a vast subterranean sea of fresh water.

"Texas is so big that the people in Brownsville call the Dallas people Yankees; and the citizens of El Paso sneer at the citizens of Texarkana, Texas, as being big snobs from the effete East.

"It is 150 miles farther from El Paso, Texas to Texarkana, Texas than it is from Chicago to New York. Fort Worth is nearer to St. Paul, Minnesota, than it is to Brownsville.

"The chief occupation of the people of Texas is trying to keep from making all the money in the world. The chief pursuit of the people of Texas was formerly Mexicans but now it is land buyers, steers and Texas crop records.

"The United States with Texas off would look like a three-legged Boston Terrier.

"Texans are so proud of Texas that they cannot sleep at night. If a Texan's head should be opened, the map of Texas would be found photographed on his brain. This is also true of his heart. Unless your front gate is eighteen miles from your front door, you do not belong to society as constituted in Texas. Mrs. King's gate is 150 miles from her front door and she is thinking of moving her house back so that she will not be annoyed by passing automobiles and peddlers.

"Other Texas landlords have whole mountain ranges and rivers on their ranches. One Texan has forty miles of navigable river on his farm. If the proportion of cultivated land in Texas were the same as in Illinois, the value of Texas crops would equal that of the forty-seven other states.

"Texas has enough land to support every man, woman, and child in the world with a tract of five feet by twenty feet, and have enough left for the armies of the world to march around the border five abreast.

"Texas grows enough alfalfa, which, if baled and built into a stairway, would reach to the pearly gates.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

“We’re distressed about the livestock.

“If all the hogs in Texas were one hog, he would be able to dig the Panama Canal in three big roots.

“If all the Texas steers were one big steer, he would stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, one hind foot in the Hudson Bay and the other in the Artic Ocean; and with his tail brush off the mist from the Aurora Borealis.”

If the last sentence does not give you a life of the spirits, if it does not cause you to think of the immensity of the universe and the smallness of your own affairs, it is hard to image what will become of you.

Mrs. Rollins is the president of the Northwest Texas Conference Missionary Council of the M. E. Church. Also a member of the Board of Missions and Missionary Council of Women. Her home is in Abilene.

A Few Notes On M. E. Church and
List of Pastors 1877-1936

By Mrs. John Ditto

Our church as organized in 1877 in the school house as we had no church house then. J. T. Lannis, preacher in charge. W. C. Young, presiding Elder. This was a circuit then with five appointments. We had preaching one Sunday in the month.

This was a new railroad town but very few people here then. We had a small organization that held services in the presbyterian church in the Watson neighborhood. They moved their membership over here, bought the Shultz lumber yard office, remodeled it and used it for a church about eight years.

Those were very hard times. Every body worked at any kind of a job to make a little money. But we had a good time, was happy and contented, did our own house work which was twice as hard as it is today, besides we took care of our children

At the first quarterly meeting in 1878 the pastor was paid $9.00 and the presiding Elder $1.50. The presiding Elder resigned.

Our first church was built in 1885. Building committee consisted of A. J. Rogers, W. B. Thomas, R. H. McNatt, J. D. Cooper, Louis King, N. K. Grove, John A. Lott, J. W. Ditto, J. P. Rose.

Our first church society only did local work and was called the Aid-Society. In 1894 the parsonage and Home Mission Society was organized which was connected with the church. Our first president was Mrs. Marsh Collins. The members were Mrs. J. D. Cooper, Mrs. Mary Coble, Grandma Hanes, Mrs. Mollie Elliott, Miss Pattie Turner, Mrs. A. J. Rogers, Mrs. W. M. Thomas, Mrs. D. C. Ellis, Mrs. J. W. Ditto.

In 1911 the two societies Home and Foreign united. Mrs. J. D. Cooper was first president of the United Society. Presidents serving since Mrs. J. W. Ditto, Mrs. John Boothe, Mrs. T. J. Graham, Mrs. W. M. Knapp, Mrs. G. C. Bailey.

In 1908 the old frame church building was replaced by a beautiful brick building. Our Missionary society contributed one thousand dollars to it. Nine years later it burned. Just eleven months later our present church was completed.

Three ministers have gone out for service from our church. They were Oscar T. Cooper, Carver King, and Andy Marney. One Deaconess, Miss Susie Mitchell and one Missionary, Miss McElreath.

We have tried to do our part in church work in this church for the past fifty years and expect to keep on to the end.

The following is a list of Pastors from 1887 to 1936:

J. T. Annis, E. W. Simmons, G. S. Wyatt, Rev. Lea Feuer, B. H. Adair, J. M. Bond, E. M. Sweet, E. A. Smith, D. O. Ellis, J. D. Crockett, T. S. Armstrong, J. G. Miller, E. V. Cox, W. P. Mussett, W. N. Currey, Ed Barcus, J. T. Lee, Ed R. Wallace, D. L. Collie, Dr. Boggs, Rev. J. B. Berry, W. S. P. McCullah, Rev. Herron, Alonzo Monk, Sam G. Thompson, Bro. Raider, W. G. Bailey, Roy L. Langston, J. H. Stewart, S. L. Culwell, Geo. W. Shearer.

Pete Kern Receives Card From Kaiser

Uncle Pete Kern of the Masonic Home is very happy this week over receiving a Christmas card from the former Kaiser of Germany, sent from his castle in Doorn. The card had a picture of the Kaiser on one side and on the other the seasons greeting in German.

Mr. Kern has received one of these cards for the past several years, and prizes them very highly. Mr. Kern, a former diamond merchant of Alaska, receives many messages each year from prominent people from all over the United States. Many of them are former business associates who have kept in touch with him all through the years.

Chas. I. Stephens Buried in Lonesome Dove Cemetery

Funeral services for Charles I. Stephens 68 (66?), were held Saturday morning at ten o'clock at the Lonesome Dove Chapel, near Grapevine, with burial in the Lonesome Dove Cemetery.

Rev. Day, manager of the American Baptist Orphanage in Waxahachie, assisted by Rev. Walker of Arlington, officiating. Mr. Stephens died at his home in West Arlington Sunday morning, March 1, after a week's illness. Survivors are his wife, one son, Rev. Carl Stephens and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Stephens was born at Anthony, Florida, January 1, 1870. By profession he was an electrical engineer, and this work took him all over the United States. He moved to Arlington from Ft. Worth about five years ago, and had made his home here since that time.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Fort Worth and all his life he lived by the Golden Rule, as evidenced by the many friends he made where ever he lived. The many beautiful flowers sent by neighbors and friends testified with their silent message of the love they all bore Mr. Stephens. In what ever neighborhood he lived the children were all his friends and a man tired out with the labors of a life well spent, who can love and appreciate children is a man whom it is an honor to call friend.

The memory of the life he lived and the many deeds of kindness and helpfulness he daily performed for his loved ones and friends, will make the lives of all those who knew him better. The many friends in Arlington extended sympathy to the family in their sorrow.

TELEVISION IS EXPLAINED TO FOUR HUNDRED

About four hundred persons heard the principles of television explained last Thursday night in the show sponsored by the Engineering Society.

It was under the direction of Hearing and Kimsey, Radio Television Engineers of Fort Worth. Equipment valued at about ten thousand dollars was used in the set up.

Clifford Hearing lectured on the equipment and explained the principles on which television is based. He stated that home receiving sets may soon appear on the market. The reason that they have not done so before this is that they are constantly being changed and improved. The home set will cost as low as $84.00.

The Girls Trio and a violinist from the music department were shown on the television screen and several students were interviewed later on the program.

A. J. Thomas Dies At Daughter's Home

In the passing of Mr. A. J. Thomas who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. B. Snider on Saturday March 7 Arlington loses one of her most interesting characters. Born in Iowa 82 years ago, for many years was in the mercantile and banking business, retiring from active business to move to Arlington in 1919. He was married to Miss Ollie Miner in 1885. To this union the following children were born: H. L. Thomas, Iowa Falls, H. E. Thomas, Ft. Worth, E. E. Thomas, Los Angeles, Mrs. W. E. Avery, Lincoln Neb., Mrs. W. W. Butler, Livingston and Mrs. Snider of Arlington.

Although handicapped by ill health, Mr. Thomas took a very keen interest in the progress of the town and as long as strength permitted could be found at every service at the church of his choice, the Christian. Services were conducted at this church Monday afternoon by the pastor, Mr. Redford assisted by a former pastor and close friend the Rev. Pat Henry of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. B. B. Spruance sang two favorite songs of Mr. Thomas, "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light." Burial followed in the beautiful Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pall bearers were V. L. Peterson, D. A. Bickel, Dr. V. Woodward, H. P. Evans, Lloyd Barton, W. E. Turpin. The quiet peace and scenic beauty of Rose Hill brought to mind the following lines, read years ago:

"Noiselessly as the springtime,
Her crown of verdure weaves
And all the trees on all the hills
Open their thousand leaves--
without sound of music
Or voice of those who wept
Silently down the sunny slope
The grieving kindred swept."

MRS. J. H. WATSON TARRANT COUNTY PIONEER DIES

(picture of lady wearing glasses)

Died at the family home in Arlington, Friday at 10:55 p.m., Mar. 6, 1936, Mrs. John H. Watson.

The grim march of Texas pioneers to the other shore continued last Friday night when more than 100 homes in the Arlington section were bereaved by the passing of a great grandmother who had endeared herself to residents of Arlington over a period of 58 years. Loved by these 100 families directly related to her by blood and marriage, and as well by a larger number who knew her as friend, counsellor, church worker, and in all the other good citizenship in woman as well as man, Mrs. Watson left a place in this town and section that will not be filled.

Margaret Rebecca Hutcheson, daughter of I. L. and Ruth Hutcheson, was born August 18, 1852, at Coulterville, Tennessee, the second of nine children. She is survived by but one of that family, a brother, W. T. Hutcheson of Archer City, Texas. When a girl of 13 or 14 years, her parents came to Texas.

Children, grandchildren and many friends had heard Mrs. Watson tell of the Tennessee home near Lookout Mountain where childhood memories clustered around war scenes. Nearby the battle of Chickamauga was fought. Her father was a Confederate soldier. The end of the family's resources came with the end of that conflict. The covered wagon trip to Texas followed quickly.

In that caravan were fifteen or more wagons with as many families. They came West to the Mississippi, down whose eastern bank they proceeded to Vicksburg when they crossed over and came West to what was to be their future home. In the party were I. L. Hutcheson, father of Mrs. Watson, with her "Uncle Charley" and her "Uncle Hon" Hutcheson. Their first stopping place was in Wise County where they visited "Aunt" Czrania Day, nee Hutcheson, a sister who had already removed to Texas and found a home. The party was not satisfied with Wise County and soon proceeded on to Alvarado in Johnson County where they settled, in 1866.

There I. L. Hutcheson established a store, becoming a well known merchant. There too, the daughter, Margaret Rebecca, grew to womanhood and, on January 7, 1869, was married to P. N. Sigler. In July of the following year, 1870, the Hutchesons and Siglers moved to Johnson Station whither they had been preceded by Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Middleton, Mrs. Middleton being an aunt of Mrs. Watson and a sister of the three Hutcheson brothers.

Dr. Middleton had settled at Johnson Station about 1868 and was one of the respected pioneer physicians of Tarrant County. Making up a big part of "The Station's" population, the

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Hutchesons and Middletons remained there many years, Hutcheson operating his store until he removed to Arlington.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sigler two children were born, both of whom live in Arlington now, beloved of all who know them. They are Mrs. Mattie Rankin and Mrs. Will McAskill. Mr. Sigler died at Johnson Station in 1875.

Three years later, on Dec. 3, 1878, Mrs. Sigler was married to John H. Watson whose father, Patrick A. Watson, had established Watson Community three miles northeast of Arlington in 1852. From 1878 to 1896 this community was the home of the new Watson family. To the union were born four children, three of whom are living and well known to the people of Arlington of 1936. They are Mrs. Marie McKinley of this city and Mrs. H. V. Copeland of Grand Prairie, and Harold Watson, also of Arlington. These children were born into the world in the Watson Community where the family continued to reside until April 1890, when they moved into Arlington.

Mr. Watson departed this life at their family home here on Dec. 4, 1926. Some three months later, on March 18, 1927, Mrs. Watson fell and fractured her hip. She never was able to walk again; but in spite of this, her health remained reasonably good until the past year during which it had gradually failed, finally resulting in her death.

During her last days Mrs. Watson was lovingly attended by all her children and by many close relatives and friends. The funeral was held in the Arlington Presbyterian Church of which she had been a member since 1896, she having joined the church in her early girlhood. Services at 2:30 p.m. last Sunday were conducted by Rev. J. H. Patterson, now pastor of that church, and Rev. S. M. Bennett, her pastor there for 21 years. Present also was Rev. W. T. Thurman, her pastor there for seven years preceding Mr. Bennett's occupancy of the pulpit.

Burial was in the old Watson Cemetery which had been set aside for that sacred purpose by her husband's father 84 years before. Pallbearers, representing families that had lived near and been closely associated with the Watsons for many years, were Ray McKnight, Tom Cravens, Webb Rose, Edward Rankin, Louis Tillery, and Tom Lee.

The following were out of town people who attended the funeral of Mr. Thomas (Mrs. Watson??): Bowman Snider and family of Longview, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Butler of Livingston, Mrs. Marjory Tucker-Butler of Livingston, Mrs. Reuter of Livingston, Homer Thomas and family of Ft. Worth.

S. J. Heard Dies Suddenly at Home

Mr. S. J. Heard, age 61, passed away suddenly of internal hemorrhage, at his home Monday, March 9th at 1:00 a.m. Mr. Heard has been sick for the last three years and although he has suffered much he never told his friends but always met them at his place of business with a cheery smile.

He has worked faithfully at the Mineral well for the past 6 years, and in that time he has made friends who will never forget him. He was well liked by every Mayor and Commissioner for whom he has worked.

Mr. Heard moved with his wife and five children to Arlington in 1914 and put in a livery stable. He bought from Mr. Charlie Mitchell the hearse and span of horses and assisted Mr. Hugh M. Moore at that time. He has lived here every since, except for about 18 months, when he lived at Hermleigh, Texas on a ranch.

Mr. Heard has had many trials. He lost his son Jack in an automobile wreck Sept. 6, 1924. He lost his oldest son, Ivan with typhoid fever, July 9, 1933. He lost his brother of Sayre, Okla., in 1934.

He will be missed by each one who came by the well because he had a friendly word for everyone including the throng of people who came to the race meet.

He is survived by his wife and three children, Bill Heard, Mrs. M. D. Coke and Fay Heard, all of Arlington.

Friday March 20 Foncine Santerre Buried Saturday

The Arlington community was shocked Friday when news was received of the death of four-year old Foncine Santerre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Santerre. The baby died from the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of her cousin, Gus Santerre also aged four years.

The children were playing at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. G. R. Santerre, when the tragedy occurred. Gus got the pistol from a shelf in a closet and was turning it in his hand when he accidentally discharged it. The bullet struck the little girl over the right eye. She died three hours later in the Methodist Hospital, Dallas.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Watson Church, near Arlington. Burial was in Parkdale Cemetery. She is survived by her parents, one brother and her grandmother, Mrs. G. R. Santerre of Dallas.

IN MEMORIUM

In memory of our dear friend, Mrs. T. E. Gardner, another dear friend has now left us for another brighter home when her savior whom she trusted called to her The Sweet Word "Come."

Oh how lonely were the hours
For this dear and loving wife
Since just two years ago was taken
Her companion from this life.

But we are happy now to know
She is at home with him up there
When she'd prayed some day to meet him
And we know God answer's prayer.

Now this circle has been broken
On this earth of sin and pain
But if they will trust the savior
Some day it will be complete again.

Weep not for them dear children
And trust in Jesus all the way
And if you live the lives that
They have lived you will meet them in Heaven some day.

Friday March 27 G. W. ANDERSON KILLED IN AUTO CRASH SATURDAY

Grover Winslow Anderson, 21, of Arlington, an employee of Montgomery Ward and Co., for two and one half years, was instantly killed about one o'clock Saturday morning, on the Dallas Pike about two miles east of Handley.

Mr. Anderson was returning to his home from work, when his car crashed into the trailer of a heavy cattle truck, driven by J. E. Sharp of Grosebeck, near the Village Creek Bridge. Investigators believe the young man dozed at the wheel. Sharp said the car swerved sharply striking the trailer, which contained ten head of cattle.

Anderson pinned in his machine was dead when the truck driver reached him. The body was taken to the Moore Funeral Home. Funeral services were conducted 10 a.m. Monday at the Munger Place Baptist Church, Dallas, with Rev. Earl Anderson officiating. Burial was in Grove Hill Cemetery at Dallas.

He is survived by his wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Anderson, Dallas; four brothers, Carlyle, Tucson, Ariz.; James, Riley, and Jack of Dallas, three sisters, Misses Willie Ree, Hope and Edna Beth of Dallas.

Friday March 27 CARD OF THANKS

Friday March 27 Funeral Service For Thelma Marie Watkins

Thelma Marie Watkins, eldest daughter of Henry N. and Mrs. Marie Watkins, living in Johnson Station Community, passed away at 9:50 o'clock Friday morning, March 20th 1936 of heart failure. Thelma was 8 years, 7 months and 13 days of age. She was born in Arlington August 7, 1927. Attended school here, was almost ready for the fourth grade. Always on Honor roll. Always loved and cherished by all who knew her. Mourned by her beloved teachers Mrs. Beatrice Short, and Prof. Gammon. A true Christian, always faithful and obedient. A member of Mrs. Cantrell's Sunday School class. She gave thanks to our Lord before each meal, extraordinarily intelligent. Most industrious and trustworthy. For one month prior to her death she was under the care of four trained nurses and four physicians, but the Lord knew best and called her home to Glory. Mr. Hugh Moore, funeral director, had charge of burial service. Funeral services were held at Johnson Station Tabernacle between 2 and 4 o'clock p.m. conducted by four leading ministers, besides her father who read the word of our Lord. They were Rev. Floyd Myers, pastor of The Assembly of God Church, Arlington; Rev. Ferrell, of South Carolina; Rev. Edward Costler, of Indiana and Rev. Marshall Powers, former pastor of Arlington church, who pronounced the closing benediction at the grave in Johnson Station cemetery. These songs were sung by Thelma's friends: "Shall We Gather At The River," "Sweet Bye And Bye," and "We are bound for the Promised Land." Her favorite song was "O' How I Love Jesus."

Friday March 27 SOME DAY

In Commemoration of Thelma Marie Watkins

The plans we make, the hopes we keep,
The joys we fondly pray
The dreams we treasure dear and
Deep, shall all be ours—Some day.
The pain, the fear, the weariness,
The shadow on the way,
With every burden's heaviness,
Shall pass from us—Some day.

The shattered hope, the broken tie,
The plan in ashes gray,
The heart wish that has had to die

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Shall live again—Some day.
Spring's breath shall grace each wind that blows.
December turn to May,
And we shall find a smiling rose
On every thorn—Some day.

Such is our dream, and such the Word-Hope
Loves too well to say
And that our hearts have always heard:
All shall be well—Some day.

SYMPTOMS

Wonder what is wrong with me;
Eyes are drowsy as can be,
'Way back in my head they ache—
I can scarcely keep awake;
Blood is sluggish, cannot think,
Don't care much for food or drink,

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Don't incline to read or write,
And the thoughts that come aren't bright.

Have an itch to sit and dream
All alone by some small stream,
With no troubles in the land,
Save a fish-rod in my hand,
Think I hear the skeeters strummin':
"Spring is comin'! Spring is comin'!"
Lazy...and the songbirds chatter;
Got Spring Fever—that's the matter.

Halliburton Has Speaking Engagement Every Day From Now Until June 1st

A speaking engagement every day until June 1. This is the program mapped out for Richard Halliburton who spoke to this (N.T.A.C.) student body last Tuesday.

Besides his daily lectures Halliburton is working on a comic strip and three books. One book is to be entitled "My Own Country" and one is to be for children called "The Wonders of the World." He stated that he was half way through all of them, but that they would not be published for at least two years yet.

In his lecture he related that a newspaper syndicate had offered him the job of travelling for them and writing a column each Sunday about anything he wishes. A boyhood wish caused him to want to ride an elephant over the St. Bernard Pass in the Alps exactly as Hannibal, the great general had done twenty-two hundred years before.

Obtaining an elephant in Paris named Mademoiselle Elizabeth Dalrymple he set out to cross the treacherous pass. The peasants along the way were distracted at the sight of a three ton monster invading their peaceful villages and deserted their peaceful pursuits to follow him and see what it was all about.

On making the descent his progress was blocked by the Italian Army going through their maneuvers and much babying had to be used on Mlle. Dalrymple to persuade her to go by the place where the big guns were firing.

After safely reaching his goal the elephant was shipped back to Paris by boat and Halliburton set out for Ethiopia to obtain an audience with Haile Selasse, the Conquering Lion of Judah.

A very interesting part of the lecture was Halliburton's description of his long session with Haile Selassie. The Emperor claimed that Mussolini had caused his country to become related and that in six months longer he, the emperor, would be supreme among all his savage chieftains. This would be the first time this was true since the reign of the Queen of Sheba.

The Emperor said that this was to be the toughest war the white race ever engaged in as he had allies on his side such as flies and mosquitoes and the topography of the country that no white army could hope to overcome. He claimed that he had no expense to fighting a war while Mussolini did. His savage soldiers did not care whether they were hunting wild game or white men; if anything they would rather hunt the white men as they would fight back.

Halliburton was especially impressed with the evident culture of Haile Selassie and his family. He spoke excellent French was very well informed on world affairs. His family was dressed in the very latest fashions and all spoke several languages.

His speech was concluded by saying that if he had succeeded in taking just a few of the students out of the same old grind for one hour and making them see what he had seen then his talk would (be worthwhile). He is a graduate of Princeton.

Friday April 3 ATTENDS FUNERAL SERVICE

Mr. E. A. Green attended the funeral in Dallas, Thursday, of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mattie Draper. Mrs. Draper had been ill about a week with pneumonia.

Funeral services were held in Rollie, near Dallas, with interment in the Rollie Cemetery.

Friday April 3 Funeral Services For Ray Fuller

Funeral services for Roy Fuller, 33, who was reared near Euless were conducted at the Ed C. Smith Funeral Home, in Dallas, Friday afternoon. Rev. S. M. Bennett of Arlington officiated. Burial was in the Euless Cemetery.

Pall bearers were members of the Dallas Fire Department, of which Mr. Fuller had been a member for the past 12 years. The Bell Canto Quartett furnished the music.

Mr. Fuller died Tuesday in El Paso, where he had gone in an effort to regain his health. He had been there only a few days when he was stricken with meningitis. Before his death he arranged the funeral services and requested Rev. Bennett to officiate. He was a member of the Euless Methodist Church and a member of the Odd Fellow Lodge.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ludie Fuller; two brothers, A. W. of El Paso and A. M. of Ft. Worth; one sister, Mrs. Myrtle Keller who resides in El Paso, and his foster mother, Mrs. J. C. Uselton, Ft. Worth.

Friday April 10 FUNERAL SERVICES ARE HELD FOR JOHN HARRISON

Funeral services for John Harrison, 51, were conducted at the Presbyterian Church, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Rev. John N. Patterson, Pastor, and Rev. S. M. Bennett, former pastor officiated. Burial was in Parkdale Cemetery.

Active pall bearers were Tom Purl, W. H. Brunette, Henry Lawrence, T. T. Maxwell, Don Wilmeth and Charlie Coulter. Honorary pall bearers were Webb Rose, Will Hiatt, L. D. Henry, Coy King, C. Bryson, Frank McKnight, Dan Hightower, C. T. Brower, Bill Leatherman, John Waters, M. L. Greer, Dr. J. M. Givens, Coulter Sublett, Dr. Charlie Davis, Harold Watson, Louis Tillery and Walker Echols.

Mr. Harrison is survived by his widow, Mrs. Maude Harrison, one daughter, Cora Sue, his mother, Mrs. P. H. Harrison and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Pressley and Mrs. Mattie Putman.

Mr. Harrison was a member of one of Arlington's pioneer families. The little community, northeast of Arlington, Harrison, was named for his father, who was at one time one of the largest land owners of this locality. The farm home of the family is today in the city limits.

Mr. Harrison left the farm at the age of fourteen and secured a position with the old H. W. Williams Drug Co. in Fort Worth, this later became the Southwestern Drug Company. Mr. Harrison was with this company 37 years and at the time of his death held a responsible position. An entire lifetime with one firm, gradually working from the bottom to the top is an enviable record.

He was married January 10 to Miss Maude Ridge, a member of one of Mansfield's pioneer families. Only one child, Cora Sue, was born to them.

In the passing of Mr. Harrison, Arlington has lost one of its best loved citizens, and Journal joins a host of friends in extending sympathy to his wife and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Noah, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Noah and family.

Friday April 10 MARY J. JOHNSTON TARRANT COUNTY PIONEER DIES FRI.

In the passing of Mrs. Mary Jane Long Johnston, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Benton Collins, Friday April 3, 1936, Arlington lost one of its best loved women. She was one of the few remaining pioneers, and had endeared herself to the entire community during the 60 years of her residence here. Loved by her family and a large circle of friends who knew her best. Loved for the beautiful Christian life she led, a life of compassion and love and devotion to others. Even though a shut-in for the last few years of her life, she was never heard to complain, but was always cheerful and happy, and her greatest pleasure was the visits of her old friends.

Mrs. Johnson, the daughter of the late Mary Jane and David R. Long was born in Loudon, Tennessee, October 5, 1843 and moved to Texas in 1873 and located in Dallas County. She was married to William Scott Johnston, Sept. 2, 1875. They moved to Tarrant County in 1876 and bought a farm five miles south of Arlington, living there until about 40 years ago when they moved to Arlington.

She joined the Presbyterian Church when sixteen years of age, but united with the Methodist Church after her marriage. She was active in church work, until seven years ago, when she became an invalid. She and her husband both being invalids and unable to attend church listened to services over the radio every Sunday.

The devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Johnston to each other during the 60 years of their married life, was a revelation to their friends, they were constantly, together and the thought of each, was for the welfare of the other. All through the years if one went on a visit the other went too, no business deal was ever transacted without first talking it over together, theirs was truly a marriage made in Heaven. Her last conscious thought was for her beloved husband.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, with Dr. W. T. Rouse of Denton, Dr. George W. Shearer, Dr. S. M. Bennett and Dr. Wynne officiating. Burial was in the Arlington Cemetery. Active pall bearers were her grandsons, Arthur, Owen and Tom Collins of Arlington and Elton, Norman and Vernon Johnston of McLean. Honorary pall bearers were: W. E. Butcher, Frank McKnight, J. P. Fielder, C. R. Ayers, L. F. Harvey, R. S. Wagoner, J. D. Swaim, Bascom Thomas, Tom Adkins, Joe Nuckles, Barb Nuckles, W. T. Wilson, J. R. Phillips, J. M. Carpenter, J. E. Kerby, Charley Carpenter, J. B. Guill, J. H. Bodine and D. M. Davis.

Survivors are her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Benton Collins, Arlington, one son, Scott Johnston, McLean; twelve grandchildren and eighteen great grand children, one sister, Mrs. A. W. Brakebill, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Beautiful flowers which she loved, were sent in great numbers, by loving friends from all over the county. They paid a silent tribute of love to this mother, councillor and friend. The place she left vacant will not be filled.

And now she dwells where neither doubt nor fear

May find her breast;

No crying child may disturb her here

Or break her rest.

Ended the ache of living. Here she lies

In wondrous peace.

God left a smile about her lovely eyes

With her release
Love had no more sweet service to provide
But this we know,
She'll watch for us upon the other side,
Who tried her so.

Friday April 17 CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely thank our friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. Also for the beautiful flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Johnston and family, and
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collins and family.

Friday April 17 Whips Wrong Man In Car Wreck

E. Kettle of Dallas had a collision with another car on the Highway at four o'clock Sunday morning. After the wreck he jumped from his car to see what it was all about.

Fred Crouch, another Dallas man, stopped to see if any one was hurt, and when Kettle saw him thought he was the driver of the car he had struck and to even things up, jumped on him to give him a licking.

Men who had stopped to see the wreck parted them and explained he had the wrong man and that the driver of the car in the collision had gone on. The two men adjusted things and both proceeded on their way.

Friday April 17 Joseph Cassard, Jr. Killed On Highway

Joseph Cassard Jr., 17, an employee of E. Haughton, owner of a string of race horses at Arlington Downs, was injured fatally early Saturday morning, when struck by a truck on the highway near the Downs.

Roy Fry, 22, and T. J. Weaver(?) both of Marshall were bringing a load of cattle to Ft. Worth. Fry, who was driving said he noticed a man walking along the side of the road, and pulled to the left to pass him. The fender of the truck missed the boy but Fry felt the impact, when the back end of the truck whipped around, and got out and found Cassard lying unconscious on the pavement.

C. W. Storey of Fort Worth, driver of an air mail truck, picked up the injured man and carried him to Grand Prairie, but failed to find medical aid. The boy was rushed to a Dallas hospital, but died before reaching there.

His father who lives in Chicago was notified by Dallas officers. The youth was identified by John Heidler another truck employee.

Friday April 17 Faculty Consists Of 50 Teachers

N.T.A.C. students have the advantage of having 50 educators, to instruct and assist them in their studies.

26 of these are professors, 16 associate professors. There are 5 assistant professors and 3 assistants.

Four of the professors have Ph. D. degrees.

Friday April 24 Mrs. George Hiett Buried on Monday

Relatives in Arlington received word Sunday of the death of Mrs. George Hiett, Wellington, Texas. She died at eleven o'clock Sunday morning in a hospital, after a few days illness.

She became ill Saturday, while sitting in a car and grew rapidly worse. Funeral services were conducted in Wellington Monday afternoon at four o'clock, burial was in Wellington Cemetery. Will Hiett, a brother-in-law left Sunday afternoon late to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Hiett is a former resident of Arlington and was well known and loved. Her many friends will be grieved to hear of her death.

Mrs. Alice Hudson Dies Monday A. M.

Mrs. Alice Price Hudson, born Nov. 9, 1858 in Dixon County, Tennessee. Mrs. Hudson died Monday morning at three minutes of eleven o'clock, April 20, 1936, at the age of 77 years, five months, and eleven days.

In 1882 she was married to G. M. Hudson. To this union were born four children, two of whom survive, Mrs. Emma Dalton of Grapevine and Mr. W. K. Hudson of Fort Worth. In addition to these she is survived by 12 grand children and 7 great grand children.

The family came to Texas 42 years ago and located in Arlington. The husband and father passed away on December 16, 1927. Mrs. Hudson has continued to make her home in Arlington in the midst of loving neighbors and a host of friends. She confessed her faith in Christ and became a member of the Christian Church long before reaching maturity. She maintained a strong faith in God and trusted her Savior implicitly to the end.

Mrs. Hudson's funeral was conducted at the Christian Church on Tuesday afternoon, 2:30, April 21. Rev. H. M. Redford officiating. Moore Undertakers in charge. She was buried at Watson. Mrs. B. B. Spruance "The Old Rugged Cross," and "When They Ring Those Golden Bells." The choir sang "Rock of Ages" and "Lord, I Am Coming Home." These songs were the ones suggested by Mrs. Hudson before her death.

Mrs. Hudson died at the end of a long illness. She suffered a slight stroke of paralysis about six months ago, and has been in a helpless condition ever since. The citizens of Arlington and her neighbors responded to her needs with a fine spirit of Christian Service. Mrs. Jenevieve Moss has made her home with Mrs. Hudson during the fall and winter, and has waited on her constantly.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE ABOUT LOCAL LIBRARY

What is the matter with the Arlington Library? The late books, or even old books that would be new to Arlington readers never reach the shelves. Whose fault is it? A town the size of Arlington, with her schools and college and not to have a modern and up to date library, where people can go and find at least one out of every twenty books called for, is an outrage.

If the commissioners, and the Ft. Worth library won't supply Arlington with enough popular books to half way make a library then local citizens, the churches, the Civic Association and the clubs should get busy and see to it that Arlington has a library worthy of the town. It would take very little effort on the part of any individual to put this over a few teas, a good play, donations from business firms and utilities, and gifts of books stored away that will never be read, and presto the thing is done.

People here have been living on promises long enough. $10,000 is reported to be set aside each year for the maintenance of rural libraries, and Arlington is supposed to receive her pro rata, but about all we get is a few non fiction books that are never taken from the shelves and once and a great while, a few books of fiction from the Ft. Worth library.

What's to be done? Somebody suggest something, and then every body get behind the move and have a library that will be an asset and an attraction.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

If nothing else is done, at least find out where the trouble is, and do something to rectify it. If the people in Arlington will take it upon themselves to get behind a move for a better library something will be accomplished.

Friday April 24 Commercial Aviation, 10 Years Old, Pushes Campaign for Greater Safety

The new, luxurious sleeper transports are the 'last word' in airplane travel. The big ship pictured in the top photo sports eight room sections. Built by the Douglas Company, it has a wingspread of 95 feet and an overall length of 65 feet. The lower picture shows passengers lunching in one of the Curtis Condor sleepers.

Commercial aviation in the United States is 10 years old. Just a decade back, the first privately operated airmail passenger flight—from Paseo, Wash. to Elko, Nev., marked withdrawal of the Postoffice Department from operation of airmail service and taking over of the task by private companies.

The April anniversary month was marred by one of the most tragic plane crashes of the decade, the crackup of the ill fated "Sun Racer" near Uniontown, Pa., costing 12 lives. But commercial aviation still may point to a record of real progress in safety as well as in speed and efficiency

Records back up claims of the airlines. For example:

U. S. Department of Commerce statistics show that commercial air travel has become six times safer in the last five years. Today the air tourist may expect to fly 1000 miles daily for 60 years before he is due to die in a plane accident. Five years ago the period was 10 years.

A decade ago the coast to coast airmail schedule was 33 hours, more than double the present overnight schedules. Passenger fare for this trip was $400 approximately 15 cents a mile contrasted with 5 ½ cents today.

In 1927, 12,597 passengers and 1,485,280 pounds of mail were carried. Last year the figures were 746,916 passengers and approximately 15,000,000 pounds of mail.

Air express was a novelty less than 10 years ago, but planes flew 1912 tons of express packages in 1935.

Ten years ago, our air service suffered in comparison with that in Europe. Today the United States is the acknowledged world leader in aviation.

Plans for increased safety in air travel are the chief concern of the big airlines at present, with the Department of Commerce taking unusually active interest in this phase. There have been 13 bad plane crashes in the last two years. While tragic, each has helped spur safety efforts.

Another important group seeking to make the airways less dangerous is made up of expert investigators of the Senate Commerce Committee. Their job is to find out for the sub-committee whether government officials charged with promoting air safety are doing their work effectively; whether inspections, licensing requirements and the like are adequate.

Many bugaboos of the air have been conquered by the plane lines. The commercial flyer no longer worries about dark clouds and rain. "Bad weather" feared by pilots is that which coats wings, propellers and carburetors with ice or hides landing fields beneath heavy fog.

Devices have been brought out recently which shake new ice from wings and keep it from forming on propeller and carburetor. The ice danger soon may be a thing of the past.

Other new safeguards are fire resisting fabrics and materials designed by the Bureau of Standards for planes.

Every air transport company experiments constantly, trying to make flying safer—for accidents are as costly as they are tragic.

With these and other advancements, with keen interest everywhere, and with closer co-operation between airlines and the government's safety services, there is every reason to expect American commercial aviation to show even greater progress during the next 10 years than during its first decade of operation.

HISTORY OF ARLINGTON

1. Origin of the Town

In July of 1876 the T. & P. Railway passed through the present site of Arlington. A town soon sprang up. Mr. Seth Ramsey owned a good many acres of the present Arlington land. He built the first home in Arlington. It was near the present South Side School building site. The name JOHNSON was selected for the little town, but the postmaster-general at Washington refused to let mail be sent to JOHNSON because of its nearness to Johnson Station. The mail would have gotten mixed because of the similiarity of their names. Hence another name had to be selected. The Rev. Hayter of the Presbyterian Church suggested the name of Arlington, the name of Gen. Robert E. Lee's home.

2. Business Houses of Arlington

The first store that was started in Arlington was Mr. Jams Ditto's grocery and dry goods store. Others that followed soon afterwards were Mr. R. W. Collins and Mr. Rogers. In 1893 Mr. Frank McKnight bought some of the interest in Mr. Rogers store, and it became known as Rogers-McKnight Department Store. Mr. Middleton had the first drug store in Arlington. In 1876 or 77 Mr. Middleton and Mr. Copeland established the first lumber yard. Mr. Miller had the first hotel, which was located on West Main Street. W. A. Sweet had the first barber shop, and Nichols & McKnight was the first cleaning and pressing establishment. The town has grown and progressed until there are now eleven grocery stores, six drug stores, six cafes, one bakery, seven cleaning and pressing establishments, eleven garages and filling stations, two dry goods stores, two variety stores, one ladies' ready to wear store, one hardware shop, three lumber companies, two blacksmith shops, five real estate and insurance companies, one ice cream company, five feed stores, four automobile companies, one theatre, one mattress company, and two shoe shops.

John Litton ran the first newspaper in Arlington; then W. M. Timmerman took it over. At the present there are two papers published in Arlington, both being weekly papers. The ARLINGTON JOURNAL, once owned by the Stanberry brothers and by Mr. W. A. Bowen, is now owned by Mr. S. L. Perry. Mr. Perry has recently installed a new linotype machine, and automatic feeder press, which have improved his printing considerably. The other paper is the ARLINGTON CITIZEN, printed by Mr. Wheeler.

3. Churches

The Baptist Church was the first church in Arlington. The Methodist came next; then the Presbyterian. Today we have six churches in Arlington. They progressed as the town progressed.

4. Education

When Arlington was founded there was no school system. Soon, however, Miss Patty Turner started a private school. She taught the first three grades and then the children went to the South Side School, which was located where Mr. Lockhart's garage is now. In a few years, a new school building was built on the present South Side School building site. Then high school as well as grammar school was held in the new building. As the population grew the need for another school became evident; so the present North Side School building was built. In 1922 the present High School building was built, and later some additions were made to the building. In 1933 the old South Side School burnt and a new building is now nearly completed. The Arlington High School's annual graduates have increased from two at first to ninety some odd now.

In 1895 a private school known as the "Arlington College" was organized with W. M. Trimble and L. M. Hammand as co-principals. In 1900 Mr. Hammond sold his interest and later Mr. Trimble sold out. Dr. J. M. Carlisle bought the property and established the "Carlisle Military Academy" in 1901. It lasted until 1913 when Dr. H. K. Taylor established the "Arlington Training School." In 1916 the Training School was dissolved; J. C. Dodson leased the property and taught a school for one year. On March 26, 1917 the bill for making a State school here was signed by the governor. It went into effect ninety days later. "Grubbs Vocational College," the name of the new school, was made a branch of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas by an act of the Legislature. In 1923, the name was changed from "Grubbs Vocational College to "North Texas Agricultural College" because it was thought that the name restricted the functions of the school. The enrollment has increased from ninety some odd, when it was the "Arlington College," to eleven hundred seventy at the present time.

5. Entertainments

In the youthful days of Arlington the people satisfied their desires for entertainment, mostly by going to Calloway's Lake, Northeast of Arlington. Here boating, hunting, fishing, swimming, picnicking, etc, were enjoyed by the population of Arlington. In the business section of the fair city, was located an opera house which afforded entertainment for the more elite. Today Arlington affords quite a varied group of entertainments; namely, Texan Theatre, City Park, where golf, swimming, picnicking, ball games, are participated in by many. The Arlington Club, a dance hall, which is being turned into a skating rink; a pool hall, and shooting gallery. East of Arlington on the Ft. Worth-Dallas pike is located a race track, which keeps those interested in horse races quite busy during the season.

6. Utilities

Mr. A. W. Collins distributed the first city water in Arlington. In 1919 three of the present wells were dug and in 1921 the people began using them. Later, in Mayor Hiett's tenure of office two other wells were dug and are in use today. The depth of the wells range from 850 to 1400 feet.

Mr. A. W. Collins also distributed the first electric lights. Mr. Weeks bought him out, however. Then Mr. Weeks sold to the North Texas Traction Company and the Texas Electric Service Company bought the Traction Company's interest.

The natural gas was put into use for the city in 1913.

Mr. Henry Williamson was the first Telephone manager in Arlington. The number of phones was 300 at first and now is 700. There are ten operators now and there were ten in 1920.

7. Professional Men

Dr. Stephens and Dr. T. A. Cravens were the first physicians in Arlington. Dr. M. H. Cravens, also an early physician in Arlington, moved here from Johnston Station about 1885. Dr. W. H. Davis moved to Arlington a few days later. Dr. Greer was one of the first dentists here. At one time there were three chiropractic places, but now only one. Today there are four dentists, six practicing physicians, one optometrist. There are also six lawyers here.

8. Transportation

Until about 1900 the only means of transportation were buggies and wagons. About 1900 automobiles came into use. In Arlington Dr. M. H. Cravens had the honor of possessing the first auto. Dr. Davis had the second. About 1901, the North Texas Traction Company put the Interurban thru Arlington. In the early 1930's the North Texas Traction Company put some busses through here to compete with the other bus lines. Soon they decided that it would be profitable to run the busses exclusively, so in December 1934 the Interurban line was discontinued.

9. Mineral Well

In 1891 J. W. Hammack conceived the idea of drilling a well to furnish water for the people of Arlington. Donations were presented by J. W. Hammack, Dr. Hutchison, R. W. Collins, Rogers and McKnight, Adam Eules and Mrs. Carrie Rogers. When the well was finally finished, after two years of drilling, there was great disappointment among the donors, because the water was so hot that it could not be tasted even if the taste had been palatable. After a while the water was capped and run down the gutter until someone, R. W. Collins, had the nerve to taste it, and thereby find its medicinal value. Soon its fame, for curing every ailment under the sun, spread throughout the U. S. It was in demand for all common ailments, so when it (the well) ceased to flow, after about twenty years, the people of Arlington installed a system of forcing the water out by air pressure. When the casing gave way in 1927, it was necessary to drill a new well. The water in the new well has proved by analysis to be about twice as strong as the original water. Crystals and Concentrated Water are being produced from the well and sent all over the U. S.

10. Manufactured Products of the City

In the early days of Arlington there were hardly any products manufactured in Arlington. Some of the few were: bricks, flour, and meal. Today there are quite a few. They

Friday May 15 De Umpire On Parade

Ole Texas, she gwine sho herself

Dey say she's on parade,

To sho to all de worl,

Whut a hundred years have made.

And folks will sure be lookin'

Wif eyes so big and brite,

And fust thing you will hear 'em say,

"Haint dis de granest sight?"

An' den six months am way too short

To look at all dis show,

Hit would take about a yeah

If every day you go

Dey say an UMPIRE is on parade,

Dats why I gwine to go

For when dey begin to strut

Dat is de bigges Show.

An' TEXAS, Big Ole TEXAS,

De land of biggest hats

An' longes' spurs, and 45's,

Dey call 'em shootin' gats.

An' Lasso ropes, an' Brannin' Irons,

Friday May 15 Mrs. Charity Ruth Compton Is Buried

Funeral services were conducted at the Moore Funeral Home Saturday morning at ten o'clock for Mrs. Charity Ruth Compton, 29, who died at her home 311 South Pecan Street Friday morning at ten o'clock, after a week's illness.

The services were conducted by Rev. Roy Howell, pastor of the Church of Christ. Interment was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery near Garland. Pall bearers were Melvin Beard, Cliff Dodson, Charlie Coulter, Harry Lee Johnson, Ira Young and Jack Booth.

Mrs. Compton is survived by her husband Roy Compton, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Yoachum of Marionville, Mo., one brother, Vernon Yoachum and one sister, Mrs. Frank Stacy all of Marionville. Her family was present at the time of her death. Mrs. Compton was born in Marionville and moved to Texas and Arlington eight years ago.

The entire town was saddened by her passing. She was young and happy and her friends and loved ones are not able to understand the reason for her going. Sometime it will all be made clear and they will realize that "God" doeth all things well.

She left a place in the hearts of many that will not be filled, but the remembrance of her friendship and love will shine as a beacon light to those she left behind.

Friday May 22 FACTS ON WATER BILLS

In the investigation made by the Utilities Committee of the Civic League, of which Dr. Zack Bobo is General Chairman, the following facts were given by Dr. Bobo in his report to the Board of Directors' meeting Tuesday—this data was gathered by Mrs. C. W. Fewell, chairman of the Water Committee, and Mrs. B. B. McBride.

Grapevine has 250 water customers, meters for all; the rate is $1.75 minimum for 2000 gallons, and 35c for all over that. Their plant cost $55,500.00, and the well is 90 feet deep.

Grand Prairie has 400 customers, a minimum charge of $1.75 for the first 2000 gallons and a graded scale of charges for more. They have four wells, and their plant and wells cost $40,000.00.

Handley has 550 customers, a minimum of 3000 gallons and then 12c per 1000 gallons thereafter.

Mansfield owns both her water and light plants, has the light plant paid out, and has reduced her bonded indebtedness from $52,000.00 to $31,000.00 and anticipates the day not far off when a city tax will be unnecessary.

Friday May 29 PANTEGO NEWS Mrs. J. H. Bryant

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Riddle and family have returned home from attending the funeral of Mrs. Riddle's brother-in-law, Carl Moore of Colorado, Texas. Mr. Moore was killed when a guy wire broke causing a smoke stack to fall. Mr. Moore was welding a tank, and was caught beneath the falling smoke stack.

Friday May 29 N.T.A.C.'S HISTORY GIVEN IN MASTER OF ARTS THESIS
By Margaret McGlawn

For the thesis required for the degree of Master of Arts, Junia E. Hudspeth, Business Manager of N.T.A.C. selected as his subject, "A History of the North Texas Agricultural College."

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

According to Hudspeth, the first of the series of colleges to be founded in Arlington was Arlington College. The co-principals when the college was organized in 1895 were L. M. Hammond and W. M. Trimble. They were also the owners of the college which was a private institution.

On June 2, 1906 was deeded to the Carlisle Military Academy which was owned and operated for the Academy consisted, in addition to the old Administration Building, three barracks for cadets. The East barracks was a modern brick building and was built just east of what is now College Avenue. The program of studies covered the subject matter which is ordinarily offered from the fifth grade through high school.

Following the financial failure of the Carlisle Military Academy, the property was leased to Dr. H. K. Taylor, who founded the Arlington Training School. The purpose of this college in brief: was to "educate and to build men and women who could do things and fill responsible places in society." The buildings and grounds were practically the same as had been used by the Carlisle school.

After Dr. Taylor left the Arlington Training School in 1916, J. C. Dodson taught a school using the property which was leased to him by the directors of the Training School.

However, one year later, Judge V. W. Grubbs of Greenville conceived the idea of getting the legislature to make this a vocational school. Judge Grubbs had been instrumental in the founding of C.I.A. at Denton in 1903.

After a long, strenuous campaign, the bill was finally passed through the Legislature and was approved by Governor James E. Ferguson on March 26, 1917. It took effect ninety days after adjournment. Due to his work in founding schools, Judge Grubbs is called the "father of industrial education in Texas." Thus the college in Arlington became a state school.

By the act of the Legislature, the Grubbs Vocational College became a branch of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. The first administration of the college when it became a state-owned institution in 1917 were Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of A. & M. College, and Dean M. L. Williams, first dean of the college.

Since the word "vocational" appearing in the title seemed to limit the function of the school, a change in the name of the school was desired. Therefore, in 1923, by the third called session of the Thirty-Eighth Legislature, the change appearing in the bill was "The North Texas Junior Agricultural College."

These are merely a few of the interesting facts set forth in Mr. Hudspeth's thesis. He has gone into detail and recounted the history of N.T.A.C. from the time it was a small struggling school with a handful of students to the present time with its enrollment of approximately one thousand.

OUR DEMOCRACY (editorial)

What should be said of a world leading democracy wherein 10 per cent of the adult population cannot read the laws which they are presumed to know?

What should be said of a democracy which sends an army to teach democracy wherein one of every 10 drafted men could not read their orders or read the letters sent them from home?

What should be said of a democracy in which one of its sovereign states expends a grand total of six dollars per year per child for sustaining its public school system?

What should be said of a democracy which expends in a year twice as much for chewing gum as for school books, more for automobiles than for school education, more for battleships and war preparation than for school buildings and churches?

What should be said of a democracy in which two of every 10 citizens are on official payrolls or pensions, and one in every 25 of the population is hungry and needy?

Friday June 5 Local T. & P. Station Agent Passes Away

Funeral services were conducted at the Moore Funeral Chapel Sunday afternoon at four o'clock for E. Greenfield, 65, who died in the Texas & Pacific Hospital in Marshall after an illness of several weeks.

The services were conducted by Rev. H. M. Redford, pastor of the Christian Church, assisted by Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the Methodist Church. Mrs. B. B. Spruance was in charge of the music and sang "The Last Mile of the Way," as a solo.

Pall bearers were former friends from Wills Point. After the services the body was taken to Wills Point, the former home of the deceased, and a second service held in the Christian Church with burial in the Wills Point cemetery.

Mr. Greenfield had been an employee of the Texas & Pacific Railway for 45 years and had been in charge of the Arlington Station for 18 years, coming here from Forney where he was agent for 16 years. He was born in Victoria, Texas, Feb. 29, 1872.

Mr. Greenfield numbered his friends by his acquaintances, who were deeply grieved when the message came of his death. He had been ill for several weeks before going to the Marshall hospital and his loved ones and friends hoped for his recovery until the last.

He is survived by four sisters, Miss Lana Greenfield, with whom he lived, Mrs. Rex Luttrell of Arlington, Mrs. S. J. Frack, Alanreed, Mrs. J. H. Spires, Wills Point; and one brother, D. Greenfield of Los Angeles, Calif. Two nephews, Louis Osborn, Canton, Carl Luttrell, Arlington; two nieces, Lana Marie Osborn, Wills Point, and Mrs. Annie Matlock, Dallas.

Friday June 5 T. L. ROUSE DIES SUDDENLY WED.

Copied From Vernon Times.

Vernon people were shocked and saddened yesterday afternoon at 4:25 o'clock when the news was flashed over the city that T. L. Rouse, editor and business manager of the Vernon Times, had died following a stroke three and a half hours previous.

It does not seem possible that his cheery greeting to his hundreds of friends will be heard no more on the streets of Vernon.

Mr. Rouse sustained the stroke as he was working at a linotype machine in the rear office of the Times about 1 o'clock. Shortly after falling from his chair he was found by L. F. Blair, shop foreman, who summoned an ambulance and he was taken to a hospital. He never regained consciousness. Physicians ascribed his death to cerebral embolism, or blood clot on the brain.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church with Dr. H. H. Hargrove pastor, officiating. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. J. H. Hamblen, Methodist pastor, Rev. John E. Eldridge presiding elder, Vernon district Rev. H. N. Cunningham, pastor of the Federated Presbyterian church, and Rev. G. T. Reaves, pastor of the Central Christian church. Interment will be in East View cemetery under the direction of the Underwood Funeral Home.

Outside of his regular business duties, Mr. Rouse was vitally interested in church work and civic affairs. He was a devoted member of the Baptist church and was superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday School. His work with the church came first and he was untiring in his work along all religious lines. In addition, Mr. Rouse was president of the Lions club and Commander of the Albert E. Robinson Post No. 67, American Legion.

He has held the office of tax assessor and collector and city marshal of the town of West Vernon since its incorporation nine years ago. He was appointed acting postmaster of Vernon and served in that capacity for fourteen months.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Pall bearers were A. E. Thomas, J. E. Conn, D. J. Wilkinson, J. B. Miller, Mead Reno and Ed Swackhamer.

Mr. Cook who came to Texas in 1884 from Ripley County, Indiana, was familiarly known as Uncle Jake to the old time residents. He had lived 50 years on the stock farm he purchased when he moved to Texas. Many Arlington people attended the services Tuesday.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Squire T., Fort Worth; Arvy B. Cook, Handley and Mrs. Grace Faltz, Indianapolis and a grand child, Jakey Calvin Cook, Handley.

Friday June 5 Dr. David Hinkson Buried at Jacksboro

Dr. David Hinkson, 65, died Saturday at the Home for Aged Masons, where he has been an inmate for the past few years. He had been ill and confined to the hospital for some time.

Funeral services were held at Jacksboro Monday. His wife returned to the home Monday afternoon and will be there for a short time and will then visit her brother in El Paso.

Friday June 5 Soldier Bonus To Be Mailed June 15th From Dallas

According to Cliff Barnes, local postmaster, the Dallas Post Office will start mailing the soldier bonus, June 15 to all veterans in the Arlington district. The office will continue mailing until all have been paid.

Mr. Barnes further stated that the bonus will be registered and delivered by carrier to the person to whom it is sent. No one else will be allowed to sign for it. No one may have the letter forwarded. It will be returned to the local postoffice where it will be held 30 days and then returned to the Dallas office for re-routing.

When the bonus is received it must be certified at the Arlington office and the certification will be sent to Dallas. If certified by other than some one at the post office the owner must send (it) to the Dallas office. No postage or registration will be charged. Upon proper identification the papers may be certified at any Post Office.

After certification reaches the Dallas office, check will be mailed at once. The bonus will be in bonds of $50 each, if the payee does not want to cash all of them, beginning the 15th of June 1937, they will bear 3 per cent interest.

Friday June 5 Mildred Henderson Passes Away Sun.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Monday afternoon at 4:30 for Mildred Henderson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Henderson, who died Sunday night of streptococcic infection. Rev. P. D. Wilmeth of Cleburne, assisted by Rev. Shearer of Arlington, conducted the services.

The graduating class of the High School, of which Mildred was a member, sang the class song, "A Melody From The Sky." This song brought back memories of graduation night when Mildred was present with her happy smile, and a cheery word for every one.

A quartet composed of Messrs Lightfoot, Bailey, Bradford and Mrs. Johnson sang "Asleep In Jesus." Girl companions whom she loved, Lometa Faye Rogers, Frances Hiatt, Sterling Goodwin, Corinne Echols, Edwina Tillery, Louise Crow, Mildred Colson, Imotha Bradford, Audra Scott, Ella V. Isom, Jennie Ruth Bruner, carried the many lovely floral offerings sent by friends and relatives. The Senior class sent a large spray with the class colors, blue and white predominating. The pep squad and the teachers sent sprays and a huge wreath was sent by friends from the neighborhood where she lived.

Pall bearers were young people from the senior class: Will Ransom, Virgil Scott, Valin Woodward, Foster Elder, Charles Tillery and Ferril Kline. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery. Luttrell Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Mildred is survived by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Henderson, and one sister, Mrs. Chauncey Bradford of Fort Worth, and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Mildred was only ill three days. When word was passed around among friends that she was at the hospital, ill unto death, the entire town was shocked, and all day Saturday and Sunday, loving friends and relatives kept watch at the hospital, ever hopeful of a change for the better. Sunday afternoon about four o'clock she grew rapidly worse and all knew the time had come to give up Mildred, who had everything to make life bright and the future happy.

The end came about 9:30, peacefully, as her loved ones had hoped. Mildred was outstanding both at home and at school, for her unselfishness, her honesty, her loyalty and her cheerful disposition. When College opens this fall, Mildred will be missed, but the influence of her life will remain with her classmates, and perhaps the memory of the sweet life she lived, help them to emulate her in a small degree.

EULESS NEWS

Mrs. Oliver Arnett

We were so sorry to hear of the sudden death of Grandma Scott on Thursday morning of last week. She ate a hearty breakfast, walked back to her room where she passed away in a very short while. Mrs. Scott was 94 years and 4 months old. She was the oldest resident in this community. She was so sweet, patient and kind to everyone she knew. She gave her life for other people. Grandma had been almost totally blind for the past 27 years, however she knew you by your voice and always had a kind word to say. She was a member of the Methodist church here and attended as long as she was able. She leaves to mourn her death, one daughter, Miss Kate Scott, 3 sons, one sister and one brother besides a host of other relatives and friends. Funeral services were conducted at the Bedford church with Rev. Paxton Smith, one of her former pastors in-charge. Her body was laid to rest in the Bedford cemetery by the side of her husband who passed away several years ago.

Friday June 12 Funeral Services For W. Y. Luke, 84

Funeral services were held in Weatherford Friday of last week for W. Y. Luke 84, who died at his home in Mineral Wells Thursday, following a week's illness. A short service was held at the home in Mineral Wells.

Mr. Duke is survived by four sons, R. F. and P. A. Luke, Mineral Wells; W. P. and E. Y. Luke of Arlington, and one daughter, Miss Claudia Luke of Mineral Wells.

Mr. Luke was a former resident of Arlington, and made many friends during his residence here. He was a member of the Texas Rangers, and was one of the few remaining pioneer citizens of Texas.

Friday June 12 J. T. WILLIAMS BUYS 'FAMILY CAR'

J. T. Williams of Arlington, last week bought himself a family car, and according to his report he paid a nice price for it, but to look at it, one would wonder if it was really a car, or a cross between a wagon, a buggy and an old time "buck board." It is the first Ford car ever brought to Dallas, and is on display at the Universal Motor Company, and needless to say, it is attracting plenty of attention. Mechanics had it out on South Center Street, coughing and spluttering along Sunday and the reaction of those who saw it was perfect.

Mr. Williams was in the Journal Office the first of the week and gave the history of the car from the time it reached Dallas until the present. The number of the car is 482, Zac Slaughter owns a No. 500 made two years later, and the number of the last car received at the Universal Motor Company, is 2,987,421 and there is just as much difference in the looks of the cars as there is in the numbers.

This car has the engine under the seat, the gasoline tank in front where the engine should be, the radiator in the back, the steering wheel on the right side, and incidentally it stands straight up like the breaks (brakes?) on a passenger coach. It cranks just over the step on the right side and has the battery fastened to the step on the left side, all in all a pretty nifty car for those days.

This car was consigned to the Dillard Auto Agency, the first ever to locate in Dallas, this was in 1905, the car soon sold to one of the leading doctors, but he soon became displeased and wanted a big car. He exchanged the Ford at the agency for a 2 cylinder Reo. The Ford sold to E. J. Posey, Superintendent of the Cotton Oil Mill Co., of Midlothian. Mr. Dillard's son, delivered the car, and it took him two days, to cover the distance of 28 miles. No sooner would he get started than he would meet a team of horses, across the fields they would go, paying no attention to fences or anything else in their way, and many people who saw this car for the first time took to their heels and fled from the monster.

Several years later S. O. Cowart, of Midlothian, inventor of the Cowart Cultivator Hobble, bought the car, and used it for several years. He kept it as a memento of the early days of the automobile industry.

Mr. Cowert who is now 77 years old has retired and is living at 235 South Ewing Street Dallas. Mr. Williams, the present owner, plans to take this car, and the one belonging to Zac Slaughter, to the Frontier Exhibition in Ft. Worth, and at the close of this exhibition he expects to use the car for advertising purposes.

He has willed the car to his only grandson, Walter McKeever, age 7, of Palmer, Texas, with instructions that he, in turn, will it to his first grandson, and so on down through the years, and for this reason, Mr. Williams has really bought a "Family Car."

Friday June 19 ONE KILLED AND THREE INJURED ON HIGHWAY

S. E. Settle, 50, clerk of Callahan County, was killed and three others injured, one critically, in an automobile accident near Death's Crossing on the Highway, Friday morning about 9:30.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

William C. Jenkins, 63, of De Leon was carried to Bobo Hospital. He suffered a fractured skull and crushed right leg. The other two in the car, Ross B. Jenkins, 37, county farm agent at Baird, who was driving and Earl C. Hayes, 45, of Clyde, were less seriously injured.

The machine in which the four men were riding overturned several times, knocking down several mail boxes, when the driver swerved to avoid a car coming off West Abram Street onto the highway. The occupants of this car, Mrs. Greg C. Johnson, Mrs. T. A. Baber of Arlington and Mrs. R. L. Winn of Little Rock, were uninjured.

The body of Mr. Settle was returned to Baird Friday afternoon. Mr. Jenkins was carried to a Baird hospital, and the other two men returned home.

Friday June 19 Former Resident Dies In Dallas

John W. Hudson, 68, died at his home in Dallas, Wednesday morning. Mr. Hudson was a former Arlington resident.

Services were conducted at the Arlington Methodist Church Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the church officiating. Burial in Arlington.

Mr. Hudson is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Ernest Ditto of Arlington; three brothers, W. M. Hudson, Weatherford, M. E. Hudson, Houston, and B. N. Hudson of Fort Worth.

Friday June 19 Roosevelt Passes Through Arlington

Amid the cheers of the people lining the highway, and the scream of police sirens, President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt passed through Arlington Friday afternoon about 2:40. Smiling and bowing, and waving his hat the President came up to the expectations of everybody.

The people who were unable to go to Ft. Worth or Dallas began to gather along Division Street by noon and waited patiently in the hot sun until almost three o'clock, but were amply rewarded when the sound of the first siren of the police escort was heard. Twenty-four motor police preceded the car of the President, driven by his son, Elliott Roosevelt.

The car was driven slowly and everyone got a good look at the Chief Executive and were well repaid for their long wait. The President's car slowed to a complete stop at the Home for Aged Masons where many of them had been waiting for some time. They were very proud of the fact that Mr. Roosevelt deemed them worthy a stop, in order that they might all see him.

Many cars followed the party on to Ft. Worth, but the crowd was so dense there they could not get near enough to see or hear him.

Friday June 19 HOME FOR AGED MASONS By A. H. McLean

Friday June 12, "Old Glory" flew from our mast head all day. Arrangements were made by Dr. Woodward for us all to see President F. D. Roosevelt. Benches and chairs were placed on the Highway at the entrance to our home, and care was taken to get a full attendance, even to carrying out those who could not walk. Dr. Woodward was in his glory, as he always is, when he has a chance to contribute to our pleasure, he took snap shots of us while we were waiting and supplied each member with an American Flag, and each native Texan with a Texas flag for good measure. He had sister Harrison stand up while he snapped her, she is 92 years old, and is the widow of a Confederate Veteran. She was elaborately costumed, and carried a white silk parasol, with the six flags of Texas printed on it.

A little after 2 p.m. the sound of the sirens was heard and all came to attention, after the state patrol passed by us, the second car contained our president, and as he stopped and looked at us old grey heads, he said, "I am glad to see you." Dr. Woodward replied, "Thank you Mr. President," and the parade started off again.

We can never forget the kindness of Dr. Woodward in securing us the privilege of seeing the President. Many of our members had never seen one before.

It took hard work and lots of it to have the stop made, but, you must remember that F. D. Roosevelt in addition to being President of the United States, is also a Mason.

Merrill H. Langford Dies In Dallas Mon.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 1 p.m. from the Guardian Funeral Chapel in Dallas, for Merrill H. Langford, 23, who died Monday in a Dallas hospital with a throat infection. The services were conducted by Rev. D. A. Bryant. Burial was in Restland Cemetery.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Estella Langford, Dallas; one brother, Jack of Detroit, Mich.; one sister, Miss Sara Nell Langford, Dallas. Pall bearers were Sam Baty, Fred Grimes, Pete Case Jr., William H. Grice, J. G. Gentry and V. J. O'Connor.

Merrill Langford lived in Arlington with his mother and family until three years ago when they moved to Dallas. The family has many friends here who will be grieved to hear of his death. He was ill only three days, suffering with tonsillitis which developed the infection of the throat. Several members of the Arlington Baptist Church attended the funeral services.

Friday June 26

E. E. Isaacs Dies At His Home Mon.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon from the Moore funeral Home, for E. E. Isaacs, who died at his home in Arlington, Monday evening. Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the Methodist Church officiated. Mrs. B. B. Spruance sang "The Old Rugged Cross" as a solo.

Interment was in the Arlington Cemetery with Hugh Moore in charge. Pall bearers were Donal Owens, W. B. Vernon, Benton Collins, Emmett Rice, Clark Brower, Linton Lovell, Cameron Carpenter and Earl Cribbs.

Mr. Isaacs had been ill intermittently for the past two and one half years, becoming much worse about seven weeks ago, he was carried to a Ft. Worth hospital for treatment. Soon after his return he was stricken with paralysis, from which he never recovered.

He was born in Lindville, Tenn., February 3, 1878 and moved to Texas in 1915, but before moving to Texas lived in Florida, Alabama and Oklahoma. He was in the grocery business in Oklahoma before moving to Arlington. Soon after moving to Arlington his wife died, leaving him with one son, Sam of Arlington. He was married the second time to Mrs. Lula Scott of Ft. Worth who survives him.

Mr. Isaacs has been identified with the Milton Furniture Store since moving to Arlington, first with Will Milton deceased, after his death Mr. Isaacs and his son, Sam, bought the store and have operated it ever since.

Mr. Isaacs was a quiet unassuming man who counted his friends by his acquaintances, he was loyal to them and to his family. His friendship and his love to those who knew him best, will be a sacred memory through the years, until they too join the happy caravan across the river, where he awaits them. His deeds of kindness were not done openly for men to see, but rather in the still hours of the night when he sat by the side of a sick friend, or cheered the broken heart of a bereaved neighbor with his kindly words of sympathy and hope. His memory will be cherished by his loved ones and the entire community extends sympathy to them in their bereavement.

Mr. Isaacs is survived by his wife, one son, Sam Isaacs and one step-son, C. M. Scott all of Arlington.

Friday July 3 CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who came to us in this hour of sorrow during the long illness and death of our loved one Jesse L. Collins. May He who is our comforter be yours also when the call comes to say the last good bye.

Mrs. Ione Collins, Harry Collins, and Raymon Collins.

Friday July 3 Mrs. Hudspeth's Grandmother Was Buried at Gainesville

Funeral services were conducted in Gainesville Sunday afternoon for Mrs. E. O. Morris, 91, who died at her home there Thursday morning after several month's illness.

Mrs. Morris was the grandmother of Mrs. J. E. Hudspeth and she left Friday for Gainesville to remain until after the funeral.

Mrs. Morris was one of the few remaining pioneers of Cook County and during the early years of her life was a prominent business woman, and took an active interest in political and civic issues. She was Post Mistress at Bulcher, her home town in Cook County for 20 years. After she had reared and educated her family and there was no longer need for her to do public work she turned her attention to hand work, and pieced and quilted a quilt during her 83rd year which won first prize at the Dallas Fair.

Last year she pieced a quilt for her great-great grandson, William Howard Hudspeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truin Hudspeth of Dallas. This piece of hand work will be prized through generations to come. Mrs. Morris to her grandchildren and especially to Mrs. Hudspeth was a grandmother whose memory will be cherished as long as life lasts. She delighted to have them call her grandmother and to them the name will always recall happy days spent in her presence. To be a real grandmother, is an honor that few attain in these modern days, and fortunate indeed is the child who has known the love of a real grandmother.

Mrs. Morris is survived by three children, Mrs. R. A. McElreath, Gainesville, G. N. Dill St. Jo, Mo., and Albert Morris of Albuquerque, New Mexico. Also several grandchildren, great grandchildren and great, great grandchildren.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Nathan Lowe

Rev. W. T. Rouse of Denton, assisted by Rev. S. M. Bennett, conducted the funeral services for Mrs. Laura Lee Lowe, at the Arlington Baptist Church, Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Interment was in the Arlington Cemetery with the Moore Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Active pall bearers were Elree Mayfield, Evern Randell, Arthur Collins, Jim Grogan, Windell Johnston and Tom Roden. Honorary pall bearers Jack Back, Frank McKnight, Sam Bradford, W. B. Milburn, Sol Wagoner, Ira Holland, J. B. Collins and Dan Zuefeldt.

Mrs. Lowe was born near Tunnel Hill, Georgia, April 18, 1865, the daughter of John B. Dunn. Mr. Lowe was a native of Georgia and moved to Texas when a very young man. He returned to Georgia after a few years bringing his bride back with him. They were married Dec. 26, 1891. They were the parents of three children, one daughter, Mrs. George Watson, Arlington; two sons, Cecil and Herman Lowe also of Arlington.

Mrs. Lowe became a Christian in early childhood and joined the Baptist church, of which she was an active member, until her health failed her several years ago.

She and her husband were pioneer citizens of Arlington, giving their substance and strength to help build the town of today. They were loved and respected by all their neighbors, and their friends were their (unreadable). Pioneer women and mothers like Mrs. Lowe are fast becoming unknown, and it is with grief that we bid them farewell.

Friday July 24 W.W. Johnston 89 Beloved Pioneer Passes Away Fri.

Arlington this week was again called upon to mourn the passing of one of her loved pioneers, Uncle Billy Johnston, who passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Collins, July 17. Uncle Billy has lived in the Arlington community since 1867, moving here from Nix County, Tennessee, where he was born Feb. 13, 1847. He was married to the late Mary Jane Long Sept. 2, 1875. Mrs. Johnston passing away April 2, 1936.

Upon moving to Texas Mr. and Mrs. Johnston settled on a farm five miles south of Arlington. They lived there until Uncle Billy retired from active work on the farm about 60 years ago. They moved to Arlington to the home on South Oak Street where they lived the remainder of their lives.

He had been a member of the Methodist Church for 60 years and took an active part in all the church work until his health failed him several years ago. During his early years he was one of the most progressive farmers of the community, he was a lover of the soil and put his earnings back into land and at the time of his death was one of the largest land owners in Arlington.

Uncle Billy was a pioneer in the truest sense of the word he knew the trials and hardships to be endured in the settling of a new region, and the rearing of a family when neighbors were far apart. He also knew the meaning of the word neighbor and it expressed to him all that was loyal and true, and he lived up to the word during those hard days, and no one ever went to him for the loan of anything needed, and went away empty handed.

Men like Uncle Billy are passing and soon they will be just a memory, but a memory that will bring back to us gratitude and reverence for the men and women who blazed the trail for us and made the homes of today possible. Uncle Billy gave of his strength and substance to the development of Arlington and his name will go down through time as one of Arlington's best loved and most respected citizens.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and he was laid to rest by the side of his beloved wife. The services were conducted by Rev. George W. Shearer, pastor of the Methodist Church, assisted by Reverends W. H. Wynn, W. T. Rouse and S. M. Bennett. Luttrell Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Pall bearers were six grandsons, Owen, Arthur, and Tom Collins, Norman, Elton and Vernon Johnston. Honorary pall bearers were W. T. Wilson, D. M. Davis, J. E. Kirby, Byrd Guill, Charles Carpenter, J. M. Carpenter, J. M. Noel, J. R. Phillips, J. H. Bodine, W. E. Bogan, B. F. Gray, C. W. Nickolson, Frank McKNight, J. P. Fielder, C. R. Ayers, W. E. Butcher, L. F. Harvey, R. S. Wagoner, J. D. Swaim, Bascom Thomas, Tom Adkins, Joe Nuckles, and Tommie Spruance.

Mr. Johnston is survived by two children Mrs. J. B. Collins of Arlington and Scott Johnston, McLean, Texas; two brothers, J. F. Johnston, San Angelo, Joe E. Johnston, Dallas; twelve grandchildren and eighteen great grandchildren.

Friday July 24 CARD OF THANKS

We shall always remember with deep gratitude your kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our father.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collins,
Mr. and Mrs. Scott Johnston.

Friday July 24 Georgia Riegle Dies Suddenly Friday

George Riegle was born Oct. 26, 1860, in Bretter County, Missouri, and died of heart failure, July 17, 1936, at Arlington, Texas.

When he was about 12 years of age he moved to Illinois. He married and settled there for some years, and then moved to Florida. He came to Texas three years ago, and has stayed with T. B. Wallace and family most of the time while here.

He has many relatives in Illinois, and a sister, Mrs. Harriett McBride in Arlington. He was the youngest child of eleven children of Cathryne and Jonothan Riegle.

His nephew, Joe Pearson, and his family came here for the funeral.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Mr. Riegler was converted and joined the Christian church at the age of 21 years. He was a devout Christian, and lived daily by God's mercy.

He was laid to rest in the Arlington cemetery, Saturday, July 18. Brother Kermit Melugin and Bro. Harvey Redford preached the funeral.

Walter McAlister Has Narrow Escape From Burning Plane

Walter McAlister of Fort Worth son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McAllister, former residents of Arlington, had a narrow escape from death Monday enroute from Ft. Worth to Mexico City.

He left Ft. Worth in the morning by plane, on business for the Cosden Oil Company. Just out of Amarillo he noticed his plane getting warm on the inside and was forced to land.

After making the landing safely he went to the rear of the plane to investigate and before he got around the whole plane burst into flames. This is the second time Mr. McAlister has saved his life by a forced landing of a plane.

While he was with the American Airlines, just out of Chicago something went wrong with his plane and he had to set it down in a wooded area, tearing away both wings, but landing every passenger safely.

Obituary

Mrs. Mollie Foster was born in Pulaski, Tenn., April 1, 1865, and died at her residence, 725 Hawkins, Ft. Worth, July 25, 1936, at 6:15 p.m.

She was buried in Parkdale Cemetery, Arlington, beside her husband Mr. W. L. Foster. Funeral services were held in the Arlington Methodist church, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Jno. Renfro, of Polytechnic Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. Shearer of Arlington and Ike Sidebottom of Ft. Worth.

Pallbearers were Zac Slaughter, Clarence Wright, Al Powell, Chester Ditto, Howard Ditto and Mike Ditto, Jr.

Friday July 31

In Memory

Mrs. Mollie Foster lived 71 years, a good and useful life, 53 of which she spent in Arlington. The last 2 years she resided in Polytechnic, Ft. Worth.

For four years she was afflicted with Arthritis Deformans, spending most of this time on a bed of suffering.

Through all this affliction she was so brave and cheerful that few, who visited her, realized how much she suffered, because she laughed and joked, and made their visit a pleasant one, regardless of her own condition.

Accustomed to the hardships of the years following the Civil War, she learned early in life the lessons of patient endurance which helped her to keep cheerful and happy through even adverse circumstances. Mrs. Foster was a very clever, capable and industrious woman, a true helpful companion, and a kind loving mother and grandmother. She always managed to keep the Homefires burning to make home a place where her family loved to be.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

On her two daughters, Ida and Annie, and her grandson Billie, she bestowed the most generous affection. They repaid her doubly during her long illness by caring for her lovingly, unselfishly and faithfully supplying her slightest want if it was possible to do so.

Good neighbors, too, ministered to her for Mrs. Foster and her family made close friends of their neighbors in Ft. Worth, as they had done in Arlington.

No more fitting tribute could be paid Mrs. Foster than to say that she LIVED her philosophy of life, which is so truly expressed in Sam Walter Foss' beautiful poem:

"The House By The Side of The Road."

(poem not printed)

(Signed) An old friend and neighbor.

Friday August 7 Judge J. W. Beard Passes Away Wed.

Judge John Waldon Beard, 71, passed away at Bobo Hospital, Wednesday morning at six o'clock after an illness of about six weeks. Funeral services were conducted from the Moore Funeral Home Thursday afternoon at five o'clock, with Rev. S. M. Bennett officiating. Burial was in Parkdale Cemetery. Pall bearers were Tommie Spruance, Tom Cravens, Web Rose, Arch Cannon, A. C. Benge and James Knapp.

He is survived by his widow, one granddaughter, Mrs. Gilbert Caroll of Dallas and two great grandchildren, John and Bertha Belle Caroll also of Dallas.

Judge Beard was born in Tyler and lived there until 16 years ago when he moved to Arlington. He was an active member of the Presbyterian Church.

He was well known in legal circles over Texas and was engaged in the active practice of law up until the time of his last illness.

He was a Christian gentleman of the old school, reserved, courteous, kindly, a believer in honesty and justice. He was city attorney of Arlington for a number of years. He expected the best from his friends and associates and gave in return a friendship that was loyal and true. Men like Judge Beard are fast passing but they leave with us a memory of a life lived as life should be lived, a desire to be more honest and fair with our neighbors, more conscientious in our business dealings and to live each day so that there will be no one with whom we have come in contact who can say it was not good to have been with us.

Friday August 21 Obituary Of Mrs. Mary A. Tillery

In the death of Mrs. Mary A. Tillery last week, Arlington lost one of her best loved women, a woman who by her kindness and charity and her devotion to her church won the admiration, love and respect of all who knew her.

Mrs. Tillery had spent most of her life in Arlington, moving here with her father and brothers at the age of 14, from their home in Kingston, Tenn. The trip was made in a covered wagon attended with many hardships, but to these pioneers seeking a home in a new country, they lost sight of the trials and deprivations in their vision of better things at the journey's end.

Their first stopping place was North of Arlington on the Dalton farm. Here Mrs. Tillery grew to young womanhood, making a home for her father and brothers and trying to take the place of her mother who died just before they left Tennessee. She became the wife of Patrick Dalton August 18th, 1872 and after his death was married to John L. Tillery in 1885.

She was the mother of five children and soon after Mr. Tillery's death moved to Arlington to the home on East Abram Street, where she lived continuously until the time of her death.

She was a charter member of the Arlington Baptist Church and until her health failed about five years ago, she was never absent from any of the services. She was a loyal Christian, a good mother, and a true friend, what more could be said, this describes a life of service and love and her memory will be cherished long by her children and her friends.

Friday August 21 SUBLETT Annie Leath

The people of this community extend their sympathy to Mr. E. B. Marney in the death of his sister, Mrs. Mary A. Tillery of Arlington. Mrs. Tillery died Wednesday at 3 p.m. at her home in Arlington.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

The people of this community extend their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Cantrell and family in the death of their grandson, who died early Friday morning. Many from this community attended the funeral.

Friday August 21 Mrs. Susan Edwards Native Of England Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Susan Edwards of Del Rio Chapter No. 204 of the order of Eastern Star, was born August 24, 1859 in Red Rough, Cornwall, England. Mrs. Edwards had been a resident of Texas for 14 years, seven of which she was a member of the Eastern Star at Del Rio and for the past two years a member of the organization in Arlington.

Mrs. Edwards suffered a heat prostration at the Home, Wednesday and passed away at 10:45 that night. The members of the Eastern Star Home will miss Mrs. Edwards from their midst, but they have the consolation of knowing she has gone to her reward, as her life here has been of such a nature to gain the respect and love of all those that have been associated with her.

Funeral services were conducted Friday Aug. 14, at the Home with Rev. George W. Shearer officiating. Burial was in Keystone Cemetery, with the Moore Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Edwards is survived by one brother, J. G. Smith of Quemado, Texas, three sisters; Mrs. Lila Clifford, Eagle Pass, Mrs. Emma Schemio, El Paso, Mrs. M. J. White, Texpline.

Friday August 28 Brother-in-law Of Mrs. S. G. Lewis Dies

Mrs. S. G. Lewis received a message Friday telling of the death of her brother-in-law, W. O. James in Cambridge, Indiana, Friday. His death was due to heart trouble from which he had suffered since last Christmas.

Burial was in Tulsa, Okla., Monday morning at ten o'clock.

Friday August 28 Cotton Wagon And Mules Hitched In Front of Drug Store

People who were on the streets Friday shortly after noon saw a very unusual sight. One so unusual for the residents of Arlington many were speaking of it. Tom Taylor called the Journal Office and requested that a reporter be sent up at once to look the situation over.

Upon arrival at the scene the Journal reporter found a cotton wagon with high sideboards and red wheels with a large span of mules hitched to it parked in front of Terry's Pharmacy. The traces had been dropped and the owner, N. E. Stalcup, had gone to the bank to deposit his cotton money.

Years ago this was a very familiar sight, but for the past ten or twelve years, we are told it has been a very unusual sight. Mr. Terry said it looked might good to him and he only wished the streets were filled with farmers selling cotton.

Friday August 28 Mrs. Sally Elliott Dies Sun. Morning

Funeral services were conducted from the Rehobeth Baptist church about seven miles south of Arlington Monday morning at ten thirty for Mrs. Sallie Elliott, 82, who died at her home early Sunday morning. Rev. Kermit Melugin, pastor of the Arlington Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in the Rehobeth Cemetery, with the Moore Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Pall bearers were A. B. Fitts, Tommie Spruance, Norwood Hiatt, H. M. Mayfield and E. C. King.

She is survived by four sons, W. E. Elliott, San Antonio; Joe Elliott, Mineral Wells; C. C. Elliott, Arlington and E. R. Elliott, Amarillo, one brother, Tom Russell, Brinkman, Okla.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

Mrs. Elliott was the widow of the late John Elliott and had been ill for the past year. She was born in Cape Girardeau County, Mo. She moved to Texas with her family when just a small girl. The family made the trip to Texas in the early days when a trip of this distance was an event in ones life. They settled at Pilot Point where Mrs. Elliott resided until her marriage to Mr. Elliott in 1875. Mr. Elliott lived then, on his farm near Rehobeth and to this place he took his bride. In 1911 the family moved to Arlington to their home on West Abram Street where they resided for 25 years and where both Mr. and Mrs. Elliott died.

Mr. Elliott and Mrs. Elliott were both pioneer settlers of Tarrant County. They worked hard raised a family and accumulated a nice sum for their old age. Mrs. Elliott was loved by all who knew her, she was unassuming, very small of stature and with a smile that went straight to the heart of all her friends. During her life on the farm, her home was the gathering place for all the young people of the community, they were sure of a welcome and a good dinner, for the crowd never got too large for Mrs. Elliott to invite them to eat.

She had no daughters of her own, but her neighbors girls were dear to her and she could never do enough for them. During her last days when she was an invalid her kindnesses of the past were paid back a thousandfold, by her constant companion, Miss Emma Thompson, who did everything for this frail little mother than an own daughter could have done. Miss Emma made Mrs. Elliott's last days happy and what more could any one have done.

Mrs. Elliott joined the Baptist Church at Rehobeth and never moved her membership. Mr. Elliott was sick some time before his death in Sept. 1930 and her duties to him prevented her attendance at the Church services. Her service was in her home with her husband and children. She leaves with her sons a heritage of love and a life time of devotion that if they will in a small way emulate, they will repay in a small manner their mothers sacrifice, and the time will seem short until they too will join father and mother in a happy reunion.

Death of J. R. Fuller

Mrs. Oliver Arnett

This community was stricken with sadness on last Friday evening at 6 o'clock when the death angel entered one of the oldest homes in this community and took away the husband and father, Mr. J. R. Fuller. Mr. Fuller had been confined to his bed for several weeks. We know that he was prepared and ready to go when the Lord called him home. He had lived a Christian life practically all of his life and had been a member of the Euless Methodist church since an early age. If you entered the Methodist Church and found Mr. Fuller absent you knew something had happened. He attended every service he possibly was able to attend. He was a kind and affectionate father and husband, and everyone who knew him loved him. He was so faithful to his family and his church. He was always trying to help someone else. He was a man who will certainly be missed from the community. No one could ever take his place. We regret very much losing a man like this but we know that God had a better home for him where he will never have to suffer as he did on this old earth. It is such a consolation to know that he had lived a true Christian life and that he is at rest in peace with Jesus in whom he trusted.

Mr. Fuller was 77 years of age. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nancy Fuller, five sons, Andrew, Edd, Warren and Homer of Euless and Larkin of Dallas, six daughters, Mrs. Abe Payton and Mrs. T. E. Whitener of Euless, Mrs. W. D. Deacon and Mrs. Earnest Millican of Grapevine, Mrs. Effort Weatherly of Panhandle and Mrs. Will Morelock of Dallas, four sisters, four brothers, twenty seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives and many, many friends.

The sixty-one beautiful sprays and wreaths and the approximately one thousand people who attended the funeral were proof enough to show how many friends Mr. Fuller had.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday September 13, at 2 o'clock at the Euless Methodist church with Rev. Curry of Mansfield in charge assisted by the pastors of the three Euless churches, Rev. Ross Smith of the M. E. Church, Rev. John Duckett of the Fundamental Baptist church and Rev. Reese, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church. Four other preachers attended the funeral. Mr. Fuller loved preachers no matter what denomination. The Masons were in charge at the grave. His body was laid to rest in the Calloway cemetery.

Pallbearers were his six grandsons, Floyd and Earl Deacon, Lloyd and Bovell Fuller, Leon Whitener and Porter Morelock.

Friday September 25 Frank McKnight, 86, Pres. First State Bank Passes Away

(picture of Frank McKnight)

Frank McKnight, 86, President of the First State Bank and a resident of the Arlington Community since 1869, died in a Fort Worth hospital Wednesday morning at 2:30 a.m., after an illness of one week. Funeral services were conducted at the home on West Main Street, Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with Reverend W. T. Thurman, John H. Patterson and S. M. Bennett officiating. Pall Bearers were Tommie Spruance, Tom Cravens, Ray McKnight, C. L. Knapp, Dr. Hodges McKnight, and Web Rose. Burial was in the Arlington Cemetery, by the side of his wife who died in 1918. Luttrell Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. McKnight is survived by two sons, Alfred McKnight and Frank McKnight Jr., all of Arlington. One brother, Dr. W. B. McKnight of Mansfield.

Mr. McKnight, or Uncle Frank, as he was familiarly known to his friends in Arlington, was born in Nacagdoches in 1861. His father died when he was eleven years old and as he was the eldest son, the responsibility of the family rested upon him. Soon after the fathers death the family moved to Tarrant County and bought an 80 acre farm near Johnson Station. Lumber for the home was hauled by ox team from East Texas. In 1884 Mr. McKnight was elected County Commissioner and in 1887 opened a general store in Arlington. He later formed a partnership and the store was known as the Rogers McKnight General Merchandise.

He became interested in the banking business in 1910, when he purchased stock in Arlington State Bank. He helped organize the Citizens State Bank, predecessor of the First

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

The typographical error is a slippery thing and sly,
You can hunt until you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by,
'Til the forms are off the presses, it is strange how still it keeps;
It shrinks down into a corner and it never stirs or peeps.
That typographical error, too small for human eyes,
'Til the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size.
The boss he stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans,
The copy reader drops his head upon his hands and moans—
The remainder of the issue may be clean as clean can be,
But that typographical error is only thing you see.

Friday October 23 Description Air Trip To Chicago And Return
By Olin Carnohan Griffin

I have just returned from the most wonderful trip of my life! I have been to Chicago by train and by bus but this time it was my good fortune to be able to board a Braniff Airway plane and really get the thrill of leaving the earth and know the ecstasy of flight! All of my friends ask me if I was afraid—well I wouldn't say I was afraid—but for the first few miles I sat awfully still. The Braniff plane is a marvel of perfection. Ten passengers can be accomodated. Five seats on either side. If you wish to recline, a wheel on the right side makes the adjustment. If you feel the need of fresh air, a small gadget conviently placed responds to your touch. Another one placed near the floor brings warm air, if you feel the need.

The latest magazines and papers are in a rack over head. Having neglected to read my daily paper in the rush of getting off I thought I would correct that omission. On opening the paper I read the headlines, "Plane-crash Kills Three." I quickly turned the page and read, "Plane Crashes into Mountain in a Fog." I folded the paper and put it back. I had lost all interest in daily happenings.

I left Meacham Field at 4:00 P.M. Our first stop was Love Field and we did not get higher than 3500 feet between these two air-ports. Arlington looked like a midget village as we passed about two miles north of it. The Arlington Downs shows up beautifully. Leaving Love Field we climbed to 6000 feet and some beautiful white clouds were beneath us. These looked like the candy you see at the Fairs and were turning and rolling and the setting sun turned them into every pastel tint you can imagine.

In one hour and 15 minutes we were in Oklahoma City. I had dreaded coming down and how mistaken I was! None of the sinking sensation I've had in numerous elevators. Just the gentlest sort of a descent and you are softly down.

I found the air-ports interesting. Wichita, Kansas, has the nicest one I saw. It's really luxurious. This line is over the entrance, "Where Yesterday Meets Tomorrow." Inside you meet a full length portrait of Col. Lindberg. He seems to really be greeting you.

Near Kansas City we reached an altitude of 12,000 feet. The co-pilot brought us cotton for our ears. He is a very understanding sort of person, and hands out mints and chewing gum with a lavish hand. There is a button you can press any time you want to ask him anything and back he comes. He also serves the meals aloft, and the box lunches are the most delicious I've every eaten. Coffee from a thermos jug and real cream! I did not experience one bit of air sickness.

In Chicago the air-port was 35 miles from where I wanted to go—Evanston—and I consider the taxi and the elevated I rode much more of a hazzard than the plane had been.

Chicago is always interesting. Right now the lake front is assuming a deserted air. Boats and yachts are being towed up the river and put in dry docks. Dahlias are in bloom and so many wonderful estates are a blaze of color.

I spent several hours in Hull House reviewing the marvelous collection of gifts sent to the founder Jane Addams. Samovars from the Czar of Russia. Trays that no amount of money could buy. I had been fortunate enough to meet her three years ago, and though she is gone her spirit is quite evident at Hull House.

The time passed quickly in Chicago. Every day was filled with interesting happenings and I met some people I won't forget. Among those I met was Mr. Ott who has recently won the Nobel prize in sculpture. I must look his work up. It seems that hands are his fetish! The trip back to Texas was perfect. I covered 1942 miles in 12 hours and 40 minutes flying time.

I shall reread Ann Lindberg's book. I am sure it will mean more to me that it did before. I shall also regard aviators with a new respect. I think they have a glimpse into the infinite that those in the cabin of the planes and earth bound folk may never know!

Mrs. Godfrey And Son Killed In Car Accident

Mrs. W. C. Godfrey, 67, and her son, Will E. Godfrey, 48, were instantly killed Saturday morning in an automobile accident, just this side of Mineral Wells. They had been visiting Mrs. Godfrey's two daughters, Mrs. E. C. King and Mrs. L. H. Huff and had left Arlington early in the morning for their home at Palava, near Sweetwater.

Just out of Mineral Wells the car skidded on the wet pavement and crashed into a truck. They were both dead when reached by a passing motorist. A Moore ambulance brought the bodies to Arlington and they were later carried to the home of Mrs. E. C. King.

They were taken overland Monday morning by the Moore Funeral Home to Palava, where funeral services were conducted from the Methodist Church at two o'clock in the afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Faint of Sweetwater and Rev. Kermit Melugin of Arlington. The Odd Fellows were in charge of the services at the cemetery for Mr. Godfrey.

Mrs. Godfrey had lived in Fischer County for 46 years. She was owner of one of the largest ranches in this part of the state. She was well known and the family was one of the most prominent in the county.

Funeral services were attended by a large number of friends from the county and from Arlington. Mrs. Godfrey is survived by two daughters, Mrs. E. C. King, and Mrs. L. H. Huff, Arlington, one son, Tom Godfrey, Tulsa, Okla., and 7 grandchildren.

Friday October 30 Mrs. S. T. Marrs Tarrant County Pioneer Passes Away

Funeral services for Mrs. S. T. Marrs, 72, were conducted at three o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Mansfield Baptist Church by Rev. J. M. Hunt or Borger. Burial was in the Mansfield Cemetery.

Mrs. Marrs died Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Zack Bobo in Arlington, after an illness of several months. She is survived by five other daughters, Mrs. H. S. Brindley, Waxahachie; Mrs. W. C. Turner, Atoka, Okla.; Mrs. L. R. Meyer, Mrs. Petis Pipes and Mrs. Ab Fitts of Ft. Worth. One brother, J. M. Black, Mansfield.

Pall bearers were her sons-in-law, Dr. Bobo, Ab Fitts, H. F. Brindley, and W. C. Turner; one grandson, Marrs Fitts; two nephews, Claude Back, Carl Back and one cousin Robert Ragland.

Mrs. Marrs was truly a pioneer of Tarrant County, having lived near Mansfield all her life. She started her married life on a farm several miles from (newspaper damaged) loved her and she was loyal to them, they knew that if trouble came, Mr. Marrs would be the first to come to their aid, and with her loving sympathy, do all in her power to lighten their burden. Mrs. Marrs became a member of the Baptist Church at an early age and all during her life religion was very real to her. She practiced it and lived it every day of her life. She gave of her untiring energy and of her material assets to further the cause of the Master she loved.

When her children reached school age, the family moved to Mansfield, where Mr. Marrs who preceeded his wife in death about 19 years, organized and was made president of the First National Bank. He remained in this position until he was forced to resign on account of ill health.

After his death Mrs. Marrs carried on alone, as only a woman of her loyalty and faith could do. She reared the younger children, educated them and took the place of both mother and father.

Five years ago she moved to Arlington to make her home with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Zack Bobo. She moved her church membership from the Mansfield church to the First Baptist Church here, and took up her work with new friends and neighbors. It wasn't long before she took her place in the hearts of her new friends and bound them to her, with her unfailing ability to know and love people and to understand them, as only loving big souled people can do.

The Arlington Journal joins with the host of friends over the county in extending sympathy to her children in the loss of their mother.

Friday October 30 Dangling Fox Tails On Cars Prove Latest Style

In order for car owners to travel in the latest style their cars must be dressed up with a fox tail attached to the radiator cap.

THE ARLINGTON JOURNAL, Arlington, Texas. 1936

A few out of state cars have been seen in Arlington with grey fur pieces hanging to their radiator caps. Observers have looked twice, wondered if they were seeing things, and the why for.

It couldn't be that someone thought that the fur pieces would keep the radiator warm these wintry days! Closer inspection revealed the fur pieces to be fox tails which didn't help to solve the mystery.

After much inquiring the solution to the mystery was reached. It is a fad that started in California. Yes sir, the latest way of dressing up your car is to hang a fox tail to the radiator cap.

J. D. McGee of the Western Auto parts noticed the fad and immediately stocked some fox tails. They can be had at one of Arlington's newest businesses for 25 cents apiece.

Call it a fad if you want to, but Mr. McGee says that a Dallas wholesale house has placed an order for 10,000 fox tails for immediate delivery.

Friday November 27 Mrs. Wheeler Rites Held Thursday

Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Ford Wheeler was summoned by the grim reaper at her Coachella home last Saturday afternoon after an illness lasting over a year. Mrs. Wheeler was bitten on the wrist about a year ago by a pet monkey and since that time has been suffering from the effects of the poison which entered her system causing great suffering and finally proving fatal.

Susan Elizabeth Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pinkney M. Ford, was born at Johnson Station, Tarrant county, Texas in 1866. She passed away at her home in Coachella on November 14, 1936.

At the age of 29 she was united in marriage to Thomas J. Wheeler. From this union six children were born, two of whom survive the mother. The family moved to Liberal, Kansas, in 1901, remaining until 1918 when they came to California. For the past 15 years they have lived in the Riverside county and in Coachella for the past six and one-half years.

Mrs. Wheeler was converted at an early age and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church, later because her church was not represented in the community which she lived she joined the Methodist church, of which she was a consistent Christian all the way through her life, with high religious principles and always staying close to those principles.

Funeral services were held at the Coachella Presbyterian church ??? afternoon at 2 o'clock ????? E. Burkhart officiating. ?hn Newlove sang two solos, "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light."

and in leaving told the pastor how much good and comfort he had received by the discussions. Returning home he was lying on the divan resting and waiting for the noon meal, when he was stricken with a heart attack, dying in a few seconds.

The week before, speaking of death, Judge Jeffries made the remark that when his time came he hoped God would let him go out like a light. In his youth he fell from a horse breaking his back and this injury caused him untold suffering all his life, so the end coming peacefully as it did, is a great consolation to his mother and family.

He was a resident of Abilene for 20 years moving to Fort Worth in 1930 and making his home with his sister, Miss Pauline Jefferies. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Presbyterian Church. A large number of Mrs. Joy's friends from Arlington attended the funeral services.

STREET SIGNS NEEDED IN ARLINGTON

Arlington is noted for its hospitality, its church, its schools—and its lack of street markings.

This may seem a trivial matter to the resident of many years who knows the names of the streets, but it is a matter that is remembered by the visitors and new residents. The names of streets here are so little well known that it takes a great deal of time and inquiring to find a desired street. New residents have little opportunity learn the names of streets without street makers.

It is far from pleasant for visiting friends to spend 15 or 30 minutes looking for the street on which you live. No citizen of Arlington feels proud when this happens. Also it would be well worthwhile for every resident to see that his house is plainly numbered. There is a vast number of houses here that are unnumbered.

Lon Samuels even put a street sign up on his street, which is Ditto St. He took extra precaution to make the sign strong and to fix it firmly but the sign disappeared. Such destruction is needless and disgusting.

Street signs have been put up in Arlington from time to time, many streets having iron sign posts still standing, and the time has certainly come when they need to be put up again. Where there is a curb could not the sign be painted on it? There it would remain.
